ANDIT DESCRIBES KILLING OF VICTIM

Prisoner Held in Murder Escaped From Chain-gang While Serving Five-Year Term.

Will Biggers, 34, negro, escaped prisoner, bandit and burglar, who says
he doesn't like to work, Wednesday night confessed he shot and killed Frank E. Marlin, a veteran railroad engineer, last Saturday and robbed him of 45 cents in cash and a watch
which he realized $3.50.

The negro's confession was announced by Chief of Detectives A. La-
zar. Bigger was arrested at his home, 983
Michigan street, by Detectives John W.
Lowe, W. W. Ford and W. D. McGee.
In indictment charging first-degree murder will be asked of the Fulton
and jury at its session Friday.

Biggers was arrested on information furnished by his brother, John Bigger, who, earlier in the day, admitted
Lowe and Detectives John Davis and J. W. Armstrong that he had pawned Marlin's watch, which he had had given him early Saturday afternoon by his brother, Lowe.
Lowe went to Will Bigger's home and arrested him when he returned from "day's drinking."

Slayer Admits Murder.

The elder Bigger readily admitted
the murder, Lowe said.

"As soon as I told him we had his brother and a confession from him
I said it was he who killed Marlin," the detective said.

Biggers told him, Lowe said, that he encountered the nature loving railroad engineer shortly after 10 o'clock Saturday morning in an abandoned servitor 400 yards up a hill from the rest of the house.

"I had a pistol and needed money,"
Lowe quoted Bigger as confessing.
When the white man (Marlin) saw him looking I showed the pistol in his ribs and told him to give me his money. He said he didn't have any shot him, first in the arm. I got around and knew I was in for it, so I decided to finish him. I then fired two shots into his head, one into his neck and a fifth into his body near his heart."

The negro then went through Marlin's pockets and got the 45 cents and the railroad man's watch, his confession says. He took the watch downtown and pawned it himself, he insisted, though his brother in a previous statement said it was he who owned the watch. The name on the awn ticket is John Bigger, but the negroes look alike and Lowe said he believed Will may have pawned it in his brother's name because the latter was known to a number of pawn-brokers as a "good" customer.

Get Drunk on Loot.

They both got drunk Saturday night in the proceeds of the murder and pawnshop transaction, Lowe said the brothers admitted.

The pawned watch was the only clue on which the police had a work in the mystery which enveloped the Marlin killing since Saturday afternoon. Armed with the number of its case and works, Davis and Armstrong began a tour of the pawnshops Monday morning seeking the watch and furnishing pawnbrokers with a description and number of the watch.

Sentenced to Gang.

Will Bigger, the confessed slayer,
was sentenced to serve a five-year term in the state prison for burglary
in 1922, the records show. He escaped from the gang in Muscogee county
after serving only three weeks. Since that time, he said, he had been in Birmingham and several northern cities, returning to Atlanta a few months ago. In his signed statement
he admits having committed a series of holdups since returning to Atlanta,
killing pedestrians chiefly and obtaining little loot.

Chief Poole Wednesday night commended the detectives assigned to the case, including besides Lowe,
Davis and Armstrong, W. W. Ford and W. D. McGee.

"These men have been almost without sleep since Saturday," Chief Poole said. "We didn't want any raids to grow cold. Naturally I'm glad we have the right man. It looked like a tough case to begin with, but these five men working so relentlessly soon broke it down."

Burned to Death

CONGRESSMAN KVALE.

CONGRESSMAN BURNS TO DEATH

Body of Representative Kvale Found in Ruins of His Summer Residence On Lake.

Battle Lake, Minn., September 11.
(AP)—Trapped by fire while he slept
in his summer cottage near here, O.
J. Kvale, farmer-labor congressman from Minnesota, was burned to death
last night when the home was destroyed.

Explosion of a stove, the kind known as an air-tight heater, or a gasoline lamp was blamed for the fire, which apparently broke out about midnight. The cottage was destroyed without other residents of the vicinity
having been aware of the tragedy.

Only a smoldering ruin marked
the site of the cottage when the fire was discovered today. So badly charred was the congressman's body that identification was in doubt for a time.

The theory that an exploding stove
started the fire was advanced by Dr.
J. T. Kvale, of Willmar, son of the congressman, while Coroner J. G. Viggen believed a gasoline lamp may have blown up. Neither theory could be substantiated.

Dr. Kvale declared his father probably was in deep sleep when the fire started and had little or no chance to escape from the burning building.
Mr. Kvale, his son said, had suffered from insomnia since the death of Mrs.
Kvale three years ago, and frequently
was forced to take a sleeping pill.

He believed his father resorted to this means of obtaining sleep last night and that the fire broke out after he had retired.

Mr. Kvale, who was 60 years old,
was the only farmer-laborer in the house. He succeeded Andrew J. Volstead as representative from the seventh Minnesota district, defeating the famous prohibition advocate in 1922
with the farmer-labor and democratic endorsement.

Retirement of Mr. Volstead, however, gave little satisfaction to voters
who had sought his defeat, for Mr.
Kvale maintained he was drier than his predecessor. In fact, he had beaten Volstead for the republican nomination two years previous to his election, maintaining in that campaign that Volstead was not dry enough. His victory was disallowed in court proceedings, however, because of alleged violation of the corrupt practices act. The court held he had circulated a statement that Representative Volstead was an atheist.

Mr. Kvale was an ordained Lutheran minister and was in charge of a pastorate at Benson, Minn., his home town, when he was elected to congress. He resigned his pastorate in 1923 but remained a member of the board of education of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America.

Macdonald Plans
to Sail for U. S.
ON SEPTEMBER 28

London, September 11.—(United News.)—The Daily Express will say tomorrow that Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has definitely decided to sail for the United States on September 28.

The Daily Express said that Sir
Robert Vansittart, private secretary to MacDonald, suddenly cancelled his return passage to London because of the prime minister's definite decision.
Vansittart was scheduled to sail
from New York today on the Aquit-
ania.

The fact that the visit to Washington to confer with President Hoover
on naval reduction actually will be made was viewed by the Express as indicating favorable developments in
the negotiations in the last few days.

Price of Tobacco Will Be Increased 10 Per Cent Today

RADIO EXPOSITION SUCCESS EXCEEDS OFFICIALS' HOPES

Halfway Mark Finds Numerous Exhibitors Enthusiastic Over Great Attendance.

At the halfway mark, the fourth annual Southeastern Radio-Electric Exposition, being held this week at the city auditorium, is surpassing all expectations for its success.

Daily attendance has been growing in leaps and bounds, and officials of the show are confident that the remainder of the week will show proportionate increases. Thus far the attendance is decidedly ahead of any preceding year.

With the increasing crowds, the enthusiasm and interest are growing.
Many inquiries are being made of the booth attendants and it is only reasonable to believe that the show has launched the best radio year in the history of the industry.

Exhibitors Pleased.
Entire satisfaction has been expressed both by those in charge of the show and the exhibitors. They feel that better results could not have been expected under any conditions,
and are not slow to give expression
to these feelings.

From every angle the show is most attractive. The main hall is beautifully decorated, the booths are all interesting with their individual decorations and trimmings, only the most attractive merchandise is displayed and the entertainment is bright and interesting.

An additional attraction has been added to the revue. Green B. Adair, well known as an entertainer in Atlanta, is appearing through the courtesy of the Lyon-Stairbird Company, Inc., one of the exhibitors. His offerings are being received enthusiastically
by the audience.

Educational Display.
The educational exhibit that has been placed in Taft hall by the Radio Exposition of America has attracted the attention of thousands of visitors
since the opening of the show. All sorts of radio apparatus and installations, from the beginning of the science to the latest developments, are displayed and demonstrated.

The photo radio is by far the most popular exhibit in the exhibit. Actual demonstrations of sending and receiving pictures are given, and there is continually a large crowd lined up along the rail in front of the apparatus.

Transmission of the pictures, a slow, gradual process, requires considerable time, during which the crowd finds amusement in guessing who or what the picture will be. The object is formed by the shading of hundreds of lines passed close together.

In addition to the photo machine
the exhibit contains many other mysteries of the science, including ship compasses and models of some of the most powerful broadcasting stations in the world. W. R. Miller is in charge of the exhibit.

GEORGE DEFENDS DEMOCRATS' VOTE

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
Washington, September 11.—(Special.)—The attitude of democratic members of the senate who supported the Simmons resolution yesterday, under which income tax returns of concerns affected by the new tariff bill are made available for inspection by the finance committee, was explained
in a formal statement today by Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, who declared that the resolution was passed with no intention on the part of minority members to harass any industrial enterprise.

Senator George, one of the ranking minority members of the finance committee having jurisdiction over tariff legislation said democrats were guided by the belief that the income tax returns passed to London because of
the prime minister's definite decision.
Vansittart was scheduled to sail
from New York today on the Aquit-
ania.

The fact that the visit to Washington to confer with President Hoover
on naval reduction actually will be
indicating favorable developments in
the negotiations in the last few days.

Atlanta Consumers Will Pay State Tax Which Has Been Borne by Dealers in Past.

Atlanta tobacco users will pay an additional tribute of 10 per cent beginning today as the result of action taken Wednesday at a gathering of prominent local tobacco men, representing more than 25 downtown cigar stores as well as co-operating tobacco jobbers.

The 10 per cent increase in the price of cigarettes and cigars represents the state tax on these commodities, which heretofore was absorbed by retail dealers. The movement to transfer the payment of the tobacco tax from the dealer to the consumer is seen as an outgrowth of the amendments added by the recent legislature to the tobacco tax law, which are said to "put teeth in enforcement of the law."

Tax on Consumers.
It was pointed out at the Wednesday gathering of local tobacco dealers and in a statement made subsequently by John M. Vandiver, commissioner of the state department of revenue, that the 10 per cent tax was ordinarily intended to be paid by the consumer, and not by the retailer, and that the absorption of this tax by retailers has resulted in depriving the legitimate tobacco dealers of normal profits, while it worked to the advantage of "bootleg dealers" who evaded the tax.

The movement, which amounts to a 10 per cent increase in the price of cigars and cigarettes, viewed as a gained headway in various sections of the state and the action taken by the Atlanta dealers Wednesday was similar to that taken earlier in the week by Savannah tobaccoists. At a meeting of the Atlanta Retail Druggists' Association last Monday a resolution was adopted to add the 10 per cent tax to the price of the cigars and cigarettes, the change to become effective next Monday.

When they purchase their "smokes"
this morning Atlantans will be confronted with a sign reading, "In order to successfully conduct our business
we are obliged to collect the Georgia state tax of 10 per cent on cigars and cigarettes. As you undoubtedly know, the tax goes to pay Confederate veteran pensions." According to arrangements made at the Wednesday gathering, the sign is to be distributed to tobacco dealers through their wholesaler and to be displayed at cigar counters to inform customers of the concerted action and the reasons for the increase in price.

State to Co-operate.
In a statement made Wednesday
by Commissioner Vandiver it was pointed out that his department would co-operate with the cigar dealers in seeing that the tax law was uniformly enforced among all dealers
so that none would be put to disadvantage. "Dealers cannot afford to sell cigars and cigarettes at cost, and if the law is rigidly enforced nobody will be able profitably to sell without adding the 10 per cent tax to the customer's price," Commissioner Vandiver stated.

It was never intended for the dealer to pay the tax placed on the purpose of the law," the commissioner pointed out. "The tax money is allocated to the state pension fund for paying Confederate veterans and heretofore, due to lack of funds from flagrant violation of the tobacco tax law, veterans in some instances have actually had to go begging for bread."

Mr. Vandiver said, "We intend to eliminate the tobacco bootleggers."
The measures that were adopted at the last session of the legislature to enforcement of the 10 per cent tax
lucro tax more effective were registration and 48-hour stamping provisions. Wholesaler and retailers are required to register at the state department. Under the amendment retailers must not sell cigars or cigarettes as wholesalers, while the latter are forbidden to sell to any one other than retailers named on the registration lists. Another provision is that all cigars and cigarettes must have the tax stamps placed on the boxes or packages within 48 hours
after they are received by the retailer,
who is not permitted to carry wholesale stocks.

While the meeting of tobaccoists
Wednesday was devoted to discussion of the price change, it was rumored in outside circles that constitutionality of the state tobacco tax law, as it now stands, may be brought to test in the courts.

Naval Parley Held.
Washington, September 11.—(AP)—
President Hoover held a two-hour conference with Secretaries Stimson
and Adams and members of the navy
general board today on the latest developments in the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain for naval limitation, but comment on what took place was withheld.

PROBE OF SHEARER LOBBYING ACTIVITY VOTED BY SENATE

Investigation of "Big Navy Propagandizing
at Geneva Will Probably Begin Next Week.

Washington, September 11.— (United News.)—The senate formally authorized today, without a dissenting vote, an investigation by its naval committee into William B. Shearer's lobbying activities against naval disarmament in which he has involved three shipbuilding companies. The committee will meet tomorrow to plan
its inquiry, which is expected to begin next week.

Coincident with the senate's order for an investigation, a difference of opinion developed between the White House and the senate as to the course of procedure. A plan of those working with President Hoover on the case to have one of the legal staff of the justice department act as counsel for the investigation was coldly received at the capitol.

Senator Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, who staged
the senate investigation, is opposed to it. He thinks the senate committee should conduct its own investigation.
Chairman Hale, of the naval committee, said he had not been consulted about such a plan of procedure and until he had been could not discuss it.

Senatorial committees are rather jealous of their prerogatives. A senatorial investigation usually covers wide latitude. The senate prefers to develop its own line of inquiry. Representatives of the justice and other departments often co-operate with senatorial committees, and the naval committee probably will accept aid, but it is not disposed to sit merely as a jury with some one else conducting the case, as is the plan here.

President Hoover's purpose is to have a real investigation, and it was the idea of those co-operating with him that the justice department could best gather the facts. Justice department agents, no doubt, will be put to work in this investigation, but their findings to the committee. But it does not appear likely that a member of the legal staff will conduct the inquiry.

The committee is to decide first tomorrow whether the full committee or a sub-committee will make the investigation. Borah said today that he would not act with the committee
and expects to take no further part,
unless he considers that the investigation is not as thorough as should be made.

The senate voted $10,000 for the investigation, which will be confined to Shearer's activities at Geneva. The resolution was raised in the senate during brief discussion of the investigation resolution as to whether it would cover all sorts of naval propaganda, including activities of church and peace organizations against a big navy.
Democratic Floor Leader Robinson,
who helped draft the resolution, explained that the inquiry would go only into the Shearer activities at Geneva, and not into general navy propaganda nor into the question of whether there should be a large or a small navy.

China Threatens
to Quit League

Geneva, September 11.—(AP)—The Chinese delegation to the tenth assembly of the League of Nations threatened to withdraw tonight after rejection by a committee of a resolution submitted by Dr. C. C. Wu, minister to Washington, and leader
of the delegation here.

Dr. Wu asked adoption of a resolution for revision of treaties which have become inapplicable. Article XIX of the covenant of the league
says that the assembly may from time to time advise reconsideration of such treaties. To the dynamic ambassador these treaties are those conferring extraterritorial privileges in China on foreign powers.

By a vote of three to four the Assembly committee of the assembly tonight decided it was unable to transmit the resolution to the juridical committee of the assembly on the ground that it opened up a question of too vast an importance.

The Chinese representative thereupon announced that if the committee did not find a way to change its decision his delegation might be obliged to leave the assembly. Adherence of the new nationalist China is of importance to the league and leaders of the international organization tonight were seeking to adjust the crisis.

AIRLINE TO HAVANA OPENS IN 60 DAYS

Route From Columbus, Ohio, Through Atlanta Will Use 32-Passenger Burnelli Monoplanes of Latest Type.

Details for the planned Columbus, Ohio, to Havana, Cuba, airline, which will include Atlanta as one of the principal terminals, were announced
Wednesday in Columbus by Warren
B. Ferris, president of the Seaboard Airways, Inc., which will control the route.

The schedule, as announced by Mr.
Ferris, calls for dawn-to-dusk flights from Columbus to Havana and from Havana to Columbus, this city being the midway point on the route and later to be a terminal for a projected airline to New Orleans and Mexico.

The company also plans to launch
a system from New York to Havana, making stops at Richmond, Charlestown and Jacksonville.

Five trunk railroads operating along the Atlantic seaboard and through the midcountry are negotiating with the company to act as feeders to the airline, Mr. Ferris said. At Columbus
a connection is planned with the transcontinental air-rail systems operating between the east and west coasts.

Starts in 60 Days.
The company will begin operations within 60 days, Mr. Ferris said. Orders have been placed with the Upper-Columbus Corporation for the construction of 14 all-metal, 32-passenger, twin-motored planes. Delivery of the first plane is scheduled for November 15, when it will be christened the system's flagship.

The 14 planes are to be the acme
in commercial plane production. Mr.
Ferris said, the interiors each to be designed differently but all modern in every way.

Stops on the Columbus to Havana route, besides Atlanta, will be Jacksonville, Tampa, Miami and Cincinnati. Through its railroad connections
the company hopes to pick up passengers at other cities along the route, these to be transported by rail road to the nearest airline terminal where they will be transferred to planes. Mr. Ferris said he hoped to announce a definite railroad connection within a few days.

To Carry 20 Passengers.
The planes which, for the long haul,
will carry only 20 passengers, are to be powered by two 750-horsepower Isotta-Fraschini motors and have a crew of three men each. They will have a maximum speed of 150 miles an hour, a cruising speed of 125 miles and a landing speed of 52 miles an hour.

The cabins are to be 12 feet wide
by 20 feet long. The planes will contain a kitchenette, radio room, baggage compartment and other facilities. According to Mr. Ferris, the company's program includes the construction of a big air terminal and radio station at Candler field.

The schedule calls for an 11-hour run from Columbus to Havana with the fare at 12 cents an air mile. At this rate the fare from Atlanta to Havana will be $92.50 one way and $175 a round trip. The fare from Atlanta to Cincinnati will be $45 and from this city to Columbus, $55.50.

DEKALB MAN WINS IN FOUR COUNTIES; MRS. BROWN ONE

Ramspeck Carries Fulton, DeKalb, Rockdale and Campbell—Opponent
Wins Douglas.

CANDIDATES ISSUE CARDS OF THANKS

Mrs. Brown Pledges Support to Winner in Election in Which There Are Three Entrants.

BY HERMAN F. HANCOCK.
Robert C. W. Ramspeck, DeKalb, defeated the first woman candidate ever to offer for congress from the fifth Georgia congressional district—
Mrs. George Brown—in the primary Wednesday to select a successor to the late Congressman Leslie Jasper Steele.

Ramspeck carried four out of the five counties of the district, according to unofficial tabulations by The Constitution, and won 16 of the 18 electoral votes by placing 6 votes each from Fulton and DeKalb and 2 votes each from Rockdale and Campbell in his column. Mrs. Brown won in Douglas.

Total vote cast was placed at 4,011,
of which number Ramspeck had 3,203
to his credit as against 808 for his opponent.

The nominee carried every single precinct in DeKalb and Fulton counties, according to The Constitution's tabulation, having 1,170 votes in De-Kalb as against 41 for his opponent, and 1,450 in Fulton while Mrs. Brown received 380.

Vote in other counties follows:
Campbell—Brown 230, Ramspeck
254; Douglas—Brown 230, Ramspeck
74; Rockdale—Brown 132, Ramspeck
255.

Ramspeck won the nomination by an approximate vote of four to one.
It is the first time in the history of the district, old political observers say, that any candidate ever carried every precinct in Fulton and DeKalb counties or ever carried four of the five counties when there was a contest.

His majority in the city of Decatur, DeKalb county, alone was more than 50 to one over Mrs. Brown.

Ramspeck will be opposed in the general election, October 2, by James Hill Palmer, a Democrat, and by Alexander, who have announced as "independents," and the nominee Wednesday night began laying plans for a concerted campaign to carry the general election.

Mrs. Brown's Statement.
"I wish to extend my congratulations to Mr. Ramspeck, and to say that I am a democrat and will vote

900 BOYS IN BLUE MARCH IN PARADE AT 63D SESSION

Portland, Maine, September 11.—(P)—Their faltering footsteps stirred by martial airs which they followed into battle more than 60 years ago, 900 "Boys in Blue" marched along for a mile today in the parade opening the sixty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Besides the marchers, 500 others enfiled by the passing of time, rode automobiles.

WESTERN UNION CLERK IS HELD FOR $2,500 THEFT

Daytona Beach, Fla., September 11.—(P)—William Jones, 26, Western Union Telegraph Company clerk, was arrested here today in connection with the theft of $2,500 from the safe of the company's local office.

Jones was brought into the case when officials said he had been on duty Saturday night, the night before the robbery was discovered.

Merchants and Ad Men To Hear Mears Tonight

CHARLES W. MEARS.

Charles W. Mears, noted expert on merchandising and advertising problems, will deliver an address at the Biltmore tonight to the retail merchants of Atlanta and members of the advertising profession.

Following the address an open forum will be held during which Mr. Mears will answer questions propounded by his hearers on any matters pertaining to advertising or merchandising.

Mr. Mears has had a brilliant record as a student of the problems faced by the business concerns of America. In addition to his work as counselor to manufacturers, merchants and newspapers, he is conductor of the Mears Newspaper Advertising Study, which he has conducted annually at Cleveland since 1925, and which is attended each year by representatives of the largest newspapers in all parts of the country. He is the author of several books dealing with business problems. Starting life as a newspaperman,

Mr. Mears studied law and was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1903.

The sessions of the Newspaper Advertising Study for this year, which have just been completed in Cleveland, attracted the largest attendance the study has yet received. In addition to conducting this annual study, Mr. Mears is director of the Pittsburgh and Baltimore retail advertising institutes and dean of the Cleveland School of Advertising and Sales.

Many of the most prominent and successful advertising men in the country were trained by Mr. Mears and his reputation has become world-wide.

Mr. Mears has spent many years in intensive study of merchandising and advertising and his advice is based not on theories but on accurate business conditions with which he has come in contact and problems which he has been called upon to solve in every section of the country.

Several hundred Atlanta merchants and members of the advertising fraternity have accepted invitations to attend tonight's address.

I. T. U. NOMINEES FOR CONSERVATIVE SLATE SELECTED

Seattle, September 11.—(P)—Progressive forces in the International Typographical union in convention here planned to nominate officers today following the selection of a slate by the conservative element last night. That the president of the union, Charles P. Howard, would be nominated was predicted by the progressives.

A referendum ballot listing the conservative nominees will be mailed to all members. The nominees are, for president, Fred Barker, of Spokane, and James Lynch, of Syracuse, N. Y.; first vice president, John J. Buckley, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; second vice president, Lloyd Spaulding, of Hamilton, Ont.; secretary-treasurer, John W. Hayes, of Los Angeles, and Guy McCoy, of Indianapolis.

Candidates selected by the conservatives through the referendum will be on the ballot with the progressive nominees. The election will be held in May, 1930.

HEATH INDICTED ON THREE COUNTS FOR AGENT'S DEATH

Detroit, September 11.—(P)—John M. Heath was indicted by the federal grand jury today on three counts in connection with the death in the Detroit river of Richard J. Sandlands, federal prohibition agent, August 2.

The indictment charged Heath with assaulting a federal officer with a deadly weapon, making away with government property and violating the tariff act in attempting to smuggle liquor into the United States.

Heath was arrested after Sandlands' body was found floating in the Detroit river four days after he and a companion officer boarded the Heath cruiser in the Detroit river to make a search.

No liquor was found aboard the Heath boat, but later federal officers dragging the river brought up several cases of whisky tied with ropes. The agents reported the ropes showed signs of being cut and corresponded with ropes found aboard the cruiser.

CONVICT IS SHOT IN GUN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Buffalo, N. Y., September 11.—(P)—Steve Pawlak, Buffalo convict who with three companions escaped from Auburn state prison during the riots of Sunday, July 28, was shot and seriously wounded early today in a gun fight with Buffalo police. At a hospital surgeons said the patient was delirious and that his death was a matter of only a few hours.

Pawlak and two companions were riding in a car which had been reported stolen yesterday. Police pursuing the city in an automobile noticed the license number was one for which they were watching and endeavored to halt the machine. Occupants of both cars deserted the machines while they still were running, and while the cars sped on down the street and crashed into buildings, opened a revolver battle.

Pawlak, wounded, and a companion were captured, but the third man escaped, though apparently wounded.

New Shoe Day Brings Orphans Unbounded Joy

Chicago, September 11.—(P)—There is Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years; and at the Chicago Home for the Friendless there is one other—new shoe day. Of all the holidays of the year, new shoe day is the best.

Sixty-one years ago Mrs. Mancel Talcott started it with a $5,000 legacy, the interest on which was to be spent every September for new shoes for the home's orphans. Not old shoes like most orphans get. Frayed, and with the polish worn off, but shiny new shoes, sturdy and strong and pretty like the nice ladies and gentlemen wear who sometimes come to the home and pat the little folks on the head.

Yesterday was the day and every youngster from 2 to 12 was taken care of. Mrs. Talcott, back in the days before the Civil War, had seen to that.

Bridge Sought.

Washington, September 11.—(P)—Senator Brock, democrat, Tennessee, introduced his first bill in the senate today—one to authorize the Tennessee highway department to maintain a bridge across the Hatchie river on the Bolivar-Selmer road in Hardeman county.

SPEED RECORD SET BY LINDY FOR 905 MILES

New York, September 11.—(P)—It appeared today that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had been teaching a record-breaking plane what speed really means.

Several days ago he borrowed the plane in which Captain Frank Hawks beat both east-west and west-east non-stop transcontinental records, to join the search for the Transcontinental Air Transport plane then missing in the west. Yesterday he flew back from St. Louis with his wife as a passenger, in five hours and 21 minutes, a distance of 905 miles.

It was not until today that computation of his average speed showed he apparently had set a record for

PAPER FROM PINE PULP IS MADE BY VALDOSTA MEN

Valdosta, Ga., September 11.—(Special.)—Samples of paper made from yellow pine pulp and by the use of water from Valdosta are on exhibition at the chamber of commerce. The paper is pure white and of a satisfactory texture and grade, testifying to two facts—that white paper can be produced from pine pulp and that Valdosta water is suitable for use in the manufacture of paper.

BRUSHED with the correct dentifrice, teeth that now are unattractive may become lustrous and beautiful—and in a very short time.

We waited many years before producing a tooth paste. During that time we studied every phase of dental caries (decay) and oral hygiene.

At last we produced a remarkable dentifrice—and gave it our name.

Now we ask you to try it—to give it a thorough trial. We ask you to note how naturally and gently it removes discoloration and tartar. Note, too, the wonderful luster it imparts to teeth.

That is due to modern ingredients which first cleanse, then polish. They are harder than tartar, so destroy it. But they are softer than enamel, therefore are harmless to it.

And remember that Listerine Tooth Paste costs you 25¢ not 50¢. A clear saving of about $3 per year. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo.

$26,000,000 Appropriation To Battle Florida Fruit Fly Is Opposed by Wood

Chairman of House Committee Tells Hoover He Believes Amount Is More Than Required.

Washington, September 11.—(P)—President Hoover was informed today by Chairman Wood, of the house appropriations committee, that in the latter's opinion, $26,000,000 appropriated by the agricultural department was more than seemed necessary at this time to control the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida.

The committee chairman said he would have to have additional proof from Florida citrus growers that the appropriation is needed before he would be willing to support it. Wood's statement immediately was challenged by Senator Fletcher, of Florida, who said it seemed to him the agriculture department had the best information on just what was needed to combat the pest, which recently has been making considerable inroads on production of citrus fruits in the peninsula state.

"The appropriation of $26,000,000," Senator Fletcher said, "is a mere bag of shells considering what it would accomplish when it is stacked up against what the government puts out in the construction and maintenance of a single cruiser."

Wanted $50,000,000 Fund. Chairman Wood said the total demands made by citrus growers was $50,000,000, including sums which they desire to reimburse growers for fruit which is damaged in eradication attempts. This sum, he said, was entirely out of reason and would never be supported by him.

Representative Wood cited the $10,000,000 appropriated for eradication of the corn borer and said that much of this money went into the purchase of equipment which, after eradication work was completed, "was so much useless overhead."

He said that doubtless appropriations of a large sum to put down the fruit fly would have similar results, and he advocated further study of the question to see if means could not be devised for eradicating the fly without such a large outlay.

The agriculture department made inquiry of conditions in Florida, and recommended to President Hoover that $26,000,000 be necessary to carry on eradication work. Subsequently, Secretary Hyde announced he intended to ask congress to appropriate this sum as an emergency measure during the present extra session.

Any appropriation would originate with the committee which Wood is chairman. Pending final action by the house, Chairman Warren, of the senate appropriations committee, said he did not care to comment on what his position would be.

NEW REGULATIONS GO INTO EFFECT.

Orlando, Fla., September 11.—(P)—New state Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine regulations will be adopted by the state plant board at its next regular monthly meeting, to be held in Tallahassee Monday, it was announced here today.

The new quarantine code will be designed to operate in conjunction with the recently revised federal regulations issued from Washington.

The meeting will be open to the public, and it is expected that a number of representatives of various lines of business likely to be affected by the new regulations will present the views of their respective industries concerning the proposed new rules.

CONSUMPTION EXCISE TAX IS CHAMPIONED

Sarasota Inn, N. Y., September 11.—(P)—The consumption excise tax as a partial relief for the tax burden on farm property was championed here today by S. M. Derrick, professor of rural social economics at the University of South Carolina, in an address at the twenty-second annual conference of the National Tax Association.

"Specifically, the taxes to be considered as coming under this classification," said Professor Derrick, "are those levied upon cigars, cigarettes and other tobacco products, admissions, soft drinks of all kinds, candy of a certain price, cosmetics, ammunitions and sporting goods."

These taxes would be levied on the producer, manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer or other middleman, with the intention of passing them on to the final consumer of the article taxed.

This form of taxation, said Professor Derrick, had its inception in 1921 in Connecticut with a tax on admissions and in Iowa with a tax on cigarettes. Every state has entered the field in the case of the tax on gasoline, he said, while 13 states have imposed excises on other commodities.

The fact that the states which have resorted to it are predominantly agricultural states in which land bears the burden of general property tax was interpreted as indicative that the tax was instituted principally to relieve agriculture.

In his home state, Professor Derrick said, such tax yields about one-third of the annual appropriation for state government.

Points listed in favor of the excise tax were that it reaches a class of people who otherwise pay no taxes, is placed on non-necessities, is paid unconsciously and is easily and inexpensively collected.

DR. WILKINS, DRUGGISTS POST BOND IN U. S. CASE

Dr. William Roper Expected To Appear Today — Dr. Webb Free on Former Bond.

Bonds totaling $1,000 each were posted Wednesday by Dr. John G. Wilkins, Herman Benjamin and Alfred C. Curtis, named in indictments returned by the federal grand jury for violations of the Harrison narcotic act. Albert C. Wessell and Robert C. Williams, also named in the true bills, were required to post $500 each.

Dr. William Roper had not appeared to make bond when the clerk's office of the local federal court closed Wednesday afternoon and it was stated that he is expected to appear this morning.

No additional bond was required for Dr. James F. Webb, also named in the indictment, charging violations of drug act, it being learned that he already is at liberty under bond of $5,000 on a similar charge. He was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Griffith on May 26, 1928, court records show, and bond was set first at $10,000 and later reduced to $5,000. He was indicted by the federal grand jury on July 9, 1929. Transcript of the preliminary hearing revealed that he is a man over 80 years of age and that he has been practicing medicine for 60 years.

Five other indictments charging narcotic law violations were returned by the grand jury here Wednesday naming Frank Walker, Janie Lou Turner, Richard A. Preston, Agnes Dewberry and William Carlton Brown.

With these additions, the number of defendants in drug cases was brought to 16, 11 having been indicted Tuesday.

Railway Signal Section Workers Adjourn Today

With principal committee reports out of the way, the signal section of the American Railway Association this morning will close its three-day semi-annual meeting at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel. More than 400 traffic and signal engineers from all parts of the nation assembled in Atlanta for the meeting and many of them will depart on a special train leaving at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Washington, Philadelphia and New York.

The morning session will be devoted to completion of unfinished business and selection of a convention city for the next stated meeting next year. The regular annual meeting of the association will be held in Chicago next March, at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year. Meeting here with the signal section of the American Railway Association is the signal appliance section.

FIREBREAK PLAN IS SPONSORED BY LIONS' CLUB

Waycross, Ga., September 11.—(Special).—The construction of a carpet grass firebreak around every 40 acres of timbered land in Ware county, will be the proposal of the Lions Club before the joint meeting of the Civic Clubs on October 17. This means that around every 40 acres of timber land a strip from 10 to 15 feet wide will be ploughed up and planted in carpet grass. This will protect the timber from the spread of fires and will furnish pasture for cattle. It is further believed that, in time, the carpet grass will conquer the wire grass.

The New Series PACKARD EIGHTS

outstandingly more advanced, more beautiful, more luxurious than ever before available at the lowest price for which a truly fine car can be sold. And there are Packard Eights on up to the most luxurious individual custom creations obtainable anywhere in the world.

In accordance with Packard's long established policy, the fundamental grace and beauty of Packard lines have been again retained. Packard does not depreciate cars in the hands of owners by frequent and unnecessary changes in appearance. But the new models are outstandingly more beautiful, more luxurious, more advanced than any of the famous Packards of the past.

No Convenience or Comfort Has Been Forgotten

When you inspect the new Packard Eights you will agree that nothing that can be provided for the comfort, the convenience and the enjoyment of owners has been omitted. It is literally true that Packard engineers and designers can think of no way in which the new series cars can be made either better or more beautiful.

Packard cars have always been noted for their fine engineering and supreme craftsmanship; their superb performance, and long life; their comfort, beauty and distinction. In the new series cars Packard has surpassed every previous Packard achievement in these fields and has also given even greater attention to refinement and details of appointments—to incidental comforts and conveniences.

Women drivers, particularly, will appreciate the new arrangement of the sun visors, the adjustable driver's seat and steering gear, the newly perfected shatter-proof glass, the dashboard lockers and the new beauty of fixtures and upholstery. While to men the improved powerplant with its new four-speed transmission and still further refined Packard straight-eight engine is sure to appeal. Here is a new smoothness, a new ability, in traffic or on the open road.

Every Engineering Improvement Embodied

Untried novelties in design are never incorporated in Packard cars. Only such improvements and refinements as meet Packard standards after long and thorough tests on Packard's own million dollar proving grounds are offered the Packard clientele. Yet for 30 years Packard has been responsible for many of the most important inventions and engineering advances made by the industry, and has pioneered most of the mechanical improvements developed in recent years.

Today's Packard Eights, therefore, include those tried and proven engineering improvements, those refinements of detail, those conveniences and luxuries which the world naturally expects in cars bearing the Packard name.

Come in and see these new masterpieces—ride in them, drive them yourself. And then tell us, if you can, what could be done to meet more completely your ideal of what a truly fine car ought to be.

THE new series Packard Straight Eights are now on display. We want you to see them no matter whether you are now planning the purchase of a car or not. They are so advanced in engineering, so rich in luxury, so complete in appointments, that we know they will delight anyone interested in all that is latest and best in fine car design and craftsmanship.

The new series includes the three Packard lines—Standard, Custom and De Luxe. Prices at the factory range from $2375 to $2775 for the Standard Eight; from $3190 to $3885 for the Custom Eight; and from $4585 to $5350 for the De Luxe Eight. Individual custom cars are also available to order.

Entire Fine Car Range Is Included

Hoover To Map Out Tour To Mid-West Sometime Next Week

Washington, September 11.—(AP)—President Hoover expects to work out the itinerary next week for his trip to Cincinnati and the midwest.

October 15 has been mentioned as a tentative date for his visit to Cincinnati and thence down the Ohio river to Louisville. From that point it was indicated today he probably would journey northward to Detroit. As a tentative date for his visit to Logan E. Bleckley, one of the south's foremost jurists.

Miss Bleckley is the first woman selected to serve as deputy clerk of the supreme court of Georgia. She has been discharging the duties of the office for several months during the illness of Mr. Talley but officially assumed her duties Wednesday after her appointment by Colonel Z. D. Harrison, clerk of the supreme court and her confirmation by unanimous vote of the court. She is a young woman of unusual intellectual attainments and is thoroughly versed in legal procedure, having aided her father for many years in his court work.

Judge Logan Bleckley was one of the outstanding judges of Georgia's judicial history. Many of his opinions attracted the attention of judges and lawyers throughout the nation and many of his precedents are now followed in the various court reports of the country. Some of his opinions attracted commendation from members of the United States supreme court bench because of their clarity and because of the soundness of the principles of law enunciated.

Logan E. Bleckley has served for many years as clerk of the court of appeals and has made a remarkable record for efficiency in office. He also is secretary of the Georgia State Bar Association and takes a keen interest in the activities of the lawyers of the state.

Catarrh Robs Patient of Vital Resistance

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with chronic catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing thus preventing proper oxygenation and purification of the blood by the lungs and also absolutely prevents restful, refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to all germ infections such as colds, coughs, pneumonia, etc. Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested for the relief of catarrh, none has given such uniformly successful results to the physician or attained such popular favor as the prescription of Dr. Runion, known to your druggist as Runion's White Wonder Salve. Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, "White Wonder" gives relief and most delightful relief. Clear, greaseless and absolutely stainless. White Wonder is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with nasal catarrh.

SENATE AND FEDERAL POWER PROBE LINKEDTrade Commission and Lawmakers Join in Investigation of Utilities.Washington, September 11.—(Unit-News).—The federal trade commission's two-year-old investigation of the activities of public power utilities today was definitely linked with a more recent inquiry into the pow-er industry instituted by the senate.
So similar is the ground to be covered that conferences are now being held with a view to apportioning work remaining before the two bodies. It was learned on reliable authority. It was pointed out that such an arrangement would prevent unnecessary duplication of effort.
Questioned today, Senators Couzens,
of Michigan, chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the senate,
and author of the resolution
which resulted in the senate probe,
said he was not prepared to say as yet how far the federal trade commission and the senate investigating committee would co-operate.
He said, however, that the senate committee most certainly would make use of the vast accumulation of data already collected at the commission'spower hearings, as well as testimony developed from now on.
It was stated at the federal trade commission today that the hearings temporarily dropped for the summer recess, probably will be resumed late this month. The commission shortly will complete its probe of utility propaganda activities, after which it will take up the financial relationships of power companies.
Started by Couzens.
The probe being conducted by the senate committee, which probably will be resumed at the December session of congress, had its origin in a bill introduced by Senator Couzens in April. He asked that a commission on communications be set up, with regulatory power over radio, telephone, telegraph and cable companies.
A subsequent amendment asked thatit also be given regulatory authority over the transmission of power.
Hearings on the bill had not proceeded far before the senate authorized its committee to investigate the relationship existing between the different kinds of communication services used in interstate and foreign commerce, including radio, telephone,
telegraph, and all kinds of wireless
and cable services so used, and transmission of power by wire or wireless.To Take Over Probe.
Senator Couzens' proposed commission on communications would take over functions now exercised separately by the interstate commerce commission, the federal radio department, the radio section of the department of commerce, and the federal power commission. Couzens maintains that the interstate commerce commission has been too busy with railroad regulation to properly attend to the telegraph and telephone companies.
The federal trade commission's power inquiry is but one of seven separate investigations now being conducted by that body, overshadowing
all of the other six in importance.
The commission in its spring hearings brought out testimony purporting to show that the International Paper & Lower Co. had financial holdings in more than a dozen newspapers.
The financial phase of the investigation is now being held up by the refusal of officials of the Electric Bond & Co. to submit some accounts and records for the commission's examination. The body is seeking through legal channels to force the company to comply.NEWSPAPER MINUTES ALTERED, LAWYER SAYSMacon, Ga., September 11.—(AP)— W. M. Shand, Columbia, S. C., attorney testified in the Hall-Lavarre newspaper suit today that he altered
the original minutes of the Augusta Chronicle when the paper was purchased with funds of the International Paper Company.Shand was called by William Lavarre
and said he changed what he considered was a draft of the minutes relating to the sale early this year.
Georgia Barrett, an Augusta attorney acting for the purchasers, had told him, the witness said, that the minutes were not verbatim record of what had occurred when the newspaper changed hands. They simply had been "written that way," Barrett explained. Shand said such procedure was not unusual in recording corporate structure developments. He said he was in Augusta in connection with formation of the Piedmont Press Association. And that Lavarre had suggested the change.Previously Harold Hall, who is suing Lavarre for equal operating control of the Georgia paper and three other papers, had brought witnesses to the state who had testified that the minutes of sale as prepared by Barrett had shown "all of the common stock was held by Harold Hall and William Lavarre."On cross examination Shand testified that Barrett was absent when the minutes were altered. He could not say whether J. C. McAuliffe, secretary of the Chronicle Company was present, but added that in any event
he had not been consulted.Changes.
Asked if there weren't pencilled changes under or over his pen-marked changes, Shand said there appeared to be, but they weren't his.Another development today was a description by W. W. Taylor, managing editor of the Columbia (S. C.) Record, another of the four papers,
as to a "power fight" made by that paper. The other two papers in question are the Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and Journal.Taylor said the fight of the Record against "power interests" had been successful. He stated the paper had been made "the laughing stock of South Carolina," by an editorial signed
"La V" and headed "Compromise, Never."McAuliffe in a letter to Hall had said the paper would be laughed at because of the editorial which was characterized as a "socialist appeal,"
instead, the Record has made friends and lost none by its stand, Taylor asserted.Under cross examination Taylor identified an editorial appearing in the Columbia State, a paper which he said was older than The Record and which had a greater circulation. The State editorial appeared on August 15, after the "La V" editorial of August 4, in The Record. The State referred to Lavarre as a turncoat who now posed as a "trust buster."On re-direct Taylor said The Record had a greater local circulation than The State. He asserted that he understood the trustee of the estate which controlled the state was also attorney for the Broad River Power Company. This company, he said he had been informed, was affiliated with the International Paper Company, or the International Paper and Power Company.Early adjournment was taken today. Lavarre's attorneys said they had one or two more witnesses to present
before Lavarre himself took the stand, probably tomorrow. They made the announcement in explaining to the court they wished an early adjournment to confer.MRS. J. M. HALL
IS FOUND DEAD
AT LOUISVILLELouisville, Ga., September 11.— (Special).—Mrs. J. M. Hall, 54, was found dead in bed this morning at her home eight miles south of Louisville.Around midnight a noise was heard around the cotton house and she and

Mr. Hall awoke again about 4 o'clock

REDUCTION IN AIR MAIL COSTS SOUGHT

Brown To Hold Conference To Endeavor Cut in Transportation Cost.

Washington, September 11.—(AP)—Postmaster-General Brown today summoned air mail contractors to a conference beginning September 30, at which he will endeavor to reduce rates paid by the government for air mail transportation.

Mr. Brown said he was prepared to bring about an adjustment which was expected "to greatly reduce the present excessive cost for this service to the public."

The postmaster-general under authority given by the air mail act of May 17, 1925, will begin negotiations to extend air mail contracts for a period of 10 years from the date they began operation.

On May 27 he told a conference of air mail contractors that while the government was not disposed to drive a hard bargain, the disparity between the amount earned and expended by the government for air mail and also the difference in pay to contractors called for a readjustment.

At this meeting it was decided the postoffice department should submit to the contractors a questionnaire to secure information on which to base a revision of rates.

Mr. Brown said that in the air mail there was not "the fundamental reason for subsidy that exists in shipping where foreign competition and ship construction and cost of operation are essential factors."

RARE HEIRLOOMS DISPOSED OF IN WILL

New York, September 11.—(AP)—Heirlooms of rare historical interest were disposed of in the will filed today of Mary Lloyd Pendleton Abney, granddaughter of Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner.

The national gallery at Washington, D. C., is to receive four Key family portraits: the writer of the "Star Spangled Banner," his wife, Lady John Zouche, Mary Taylor Lloyd, his grandmother, and Godfrey Key. The paintings are by Peter Lilly and Godfrey Kneller.

The national gallery also is bequeathed a mahogany table and two chairs used by Francis Scott Key and a knocker from the old Key house, near Arlington bridge, Arlington, Va. The will shows that Mrs. Abney, who died last July 30, owned an estate of about four acres on Long Island. This is divided equally among the following:

Julia F. B. Chubb, of Florence, Kan.; Lila Glover, of 2005 McCallie avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Ruth G. Donaghue, Victor E. Glover and Claude A. Glover, all of Chattanooga; Helen Abney Stuart, Martha A. Ditcher and Bernice A. Bower, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Mrs. Mary Phinizy, of Athens, Ga., who also is to receive a gold watch that has been in the Key family for years.

Alice P. Johns, of Wayne, Pa., will receive a portrait and the real estate at Newport. Other family portraits by Gordiani, the number and description of which was not given, will go to the Edgefield, S. C., library.

EIGHTH INFANTRY WILL BE MOVED TO FORT MOULTRIE

Fort Screven, Ga., September 11.—(AP)—The headquarters of the eighth infantry, now stationed at Fort Screven, will be moved to Fort Moultrie at Charleston, S. C., effective October 31, it was learned here today in a communication from Brigadier General Harold B. Fiske, commander of the fourth corps area with headquarters at Fort McPherson, Atlanta.

In addition to the staff officers of the regiment, about 100 privates will be transferred to Fort Moultrie. The headquarters and service companies and the band also will go to Fort Moultrie, leaving one battalion of about 200 men at Fort Screven.

General Fiske said the transfer was caused by the assignment of one battalion of troops at Moultrie to the air service, and their quarters will be utilized by the men from Moultrie.

Colonel W. P. Coleman is commander of the eighth infantry.

FINE OF WOMAN WHO SERVED BEER TO CUSTOMERS PAID

Memphis, Tenn., September 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Emma Noll, 78, faced yesterday with an alternative of 50 days in jail when she announced she could not pay a $50 fine imposed in police court, will not have to go to jail.

Announcement was made today that someone had paid the aged woman's fine and she had been released.

Mrs. Noll was fined when police testified they found 48 quarts of beer in and about the Noll home.

"My old man can't cobble enough shoes to pay a fine like that," she said.

Noll operates a shoe repair shop. Mrs. Noll denied that she ever had sold any liquor. The beer, she said, after the hearing, was given free to customers of the shoe shop.

The judge explained, however, that she had been arrested before on a similar charge and there was nothing he could do but impose the fine.

CARMEN REJECT TERMS FOR PEACE IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., September 11.—(AP)—After an all day balloting, members of the local street carmen's union rejected the New Orleans traction strike settlement terms drafted at the New York conference by a vote of 1,009 to 87.

Rejection by the carmen means that the street car strike began July 2 will continue indefinitely. It had been generally believed in New Orleans that the strikers would accept the agreement reached in New York between William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and A. B. Paterson, vice president of the New Orleans Public Service, Inc., and approved by W. D. Mahon, president of the International Carmen's union.

Augusta School Head Lauds City-County Merger Plan

Unified city and county school systems are highly recommended by the mayors, boards of education and county commissions of four large counties in Georgia which have the unified system. President Philip H. Alston, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday after he had received replies to letters he had addressed to officials in these counties.

"The reply of Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of schools at Augusta, is one of the strongest arguments I have ever heard for the unified system," Mr. Alston said. "Mr. Evans says he can see nothing but happy results should the proposed unification of schools in Atlanta and Fulton county be accomplished."

Mr. Alston released for publication the following letter from Superintendent Evans:

"Referring to your letter of August 15, which I found on my desk after my return from my vacation, and which I hasten to answer, I beg leave to say that the public school system of Richmond county, which includes Augusta, is conducted under a board of education, known as the Richmond county board of education. This board has supervision of the entire school system of the county, white and colored, city and rural. The board is an unusually large one. By recent legislation, it consist of two members from each city ward and one from each county district. This gives 14 members from the city and eight members from the rural districts. I do not object to this large board. My long experience has led me to believe that a large board of education is less turbulent and more reliable in its administration than a smaller board. The board is elected by the people, practically one-third of the membership expiring each year. This board elects its secretary and county school superintendent. The school fund is partitioned according to the needs of the county regardless of wards or districts. We do not recognize or take into account the amount of schools funds raised in the city and the amount raised in the county. It is one general fund which is apportioned according to the needs of the various units in which the schools are located. We have two high schools in the city and two in the county and all of them are equally available for pupils who reside in any part of the county.

County Unit Plan. This method of organization is known as the county unit plan, which has been in operation in Richmond county since 1872 with some modifications by amendment to the original act, fundamentally it has not been changed.

"The unusual power this board of education has is of original taxation without reference to any other authority, limited by law to 12 mills. The tax collector collects this tax and deposits it in a local bank to the credit of the board of education, and is expended by their authority without supervision or consultation with any other county authority. This makes the board independent of its operation and safe from any political domination or needs. In this respect, it is unique.

"The 12 mills of which I spoke is strictly a maintenance fund. The board assesses a levy and an additional tax to pay the interest and principal of any school bonds that may be issued for school purposes in this county.

The secretary is elected by the board for a period of three years and is its executive officer. All checks are signed by him and countersigned by the president of the board. He is generally responsible for the welfare of the school system.

"Macon, Bibb county; Savannah, Chatham county, and Brunswick, Glynn county, are similarly organized. I am under the impression the practice prevails largely in Florida, and Maryland. Under this plan the child in the rural districts has the identical schooling of the child in the city wards. He has the same length of term, the same equipment, the same qualification of teachers and the same advantages for school building.

"There are no longer city schools and country schools as such but there are schools in the city and schools in the country. It results in a fair distribution of educational facilities.

"In these days of good roads, rural telephones and mail delivery, the condition of rural life has changed immensely and the agricultural interests of the nation are demanding that they be recognized with every improvement and facility that cities enjoy. The county school unit is attracting national attention, and this organization by areas and not by city spots is increasing in favor.

"You can readily see that it decreases the cost of administration. If all Georgia was thus organized, we would have just so many boards of education and county school superintendents as there are counties but no more as it is now. I suspect we have five or six times as many but of this I am not certain.

"I have found in my administration that first-class teachers will not teach in the one or two-room country schools where the pay is small and the term is short. Naturally they drift to the cities by the simple process of selection. This has a tendency to improve the city schools and depress the rural schools, thereby increasing the difference between the city and rural life which we wish to avoid. Under the county unit plan the majority of teachers are indifferent as to whether they teach in the city or in the country. Over good roads and with automobiles the teacher can easily live 15 miles from her school and enjoy going back and forth. I have several teachers who live 15 miles from their schools and make the drive every day over hard-surfaced roads.

Aiding Country Schools. "By bringing the city to the aid of the country in the distribution of school funds, we have been able to consolidate our schools in the rural districts reducing them in this county from 84 at one time to 11 at the present time, with a possible further reduction of eight. These schools are well built, fully equipped and contain everything that any city school contains.

"Of course, I am heartily in favor of this kind of organization. I have known no other and have written and spoken abundantly on the subject. I have advocated this plan repeatedly before the national departments of superintendents and I really believe that if all of Georgia were thus organized with one county board of education and one executive officer in charge of all the schools in each separate county, we would not only save money but we would put all the educational forces in better equilibrium.

"I cordially approve of the plan that consolidates the Atlanta and the Fulton county school system. It is a step forward for which I see nothing but a happy result.

"Of course you may use this letter in any way that you may see fit. Yours cordially, "LAWTON B. EVANS, "Superintendent of Schools."

Tourneys Forestalled.

Hammond, Ind., September 11.—(AP)—The curse of the Rocking Chair Marathon, the Stating Bee, the Gum Chewing tourney, and the Hog Calling contest has not yet fallen upon the city of east Chicago and the city fathers were determined to forestall it. An ordinance designed to prevent the promotion of marathons of all kinds was before the city council.

TENNESSEE AIRPLANE LINE IS ANNOUNCED

Knoxville, Chattanooga, Nashville and Memphis Line To Be Formed.

Nashville, Tenn., September 11.—(AP)—Plans were announced today for a passenger air line connecting Memphis and Nashville, Nashville and Chattanooga, and Nashville and Knoxville, with daily service over each route.

Fred Smith, of Memphis, president of the Smith Motor Coach Company, and Walter Chandler, his attorney, conferred with the railroad and public utilities committee on the question of whether the commission has jurisdiction over intra-state commercial air lines.

This matter has never been presented previously and the commission reserved an opinion, but asked that formal application be filed for the rights the air line backers will seek. "We are working on financial plans with eastern capital and will file application with the commission shortly," Mr. Chandler said. "It is our position that the commission has jurisdiction as the law says it has regulatory powers over all common carriers and the right to grant certificates of convenience and necessity to intra-state lines."

The air line corporation would be known as the Golden Eagle Airways, and Mr. Chandler said it was planned to apply for air mail contracts between the various cities. The plans also contemplate the dove-tailing of the bus and air lines.

New Profit-Sharing Plan Announced to Druggists

Carlton H. Palmer, of New York (left), president of E. R. Squibb & Sons, manufacturing chemists, is in Atlanta today to make an announcement at a conference with druggists in this territory of the profit-sharing plan adopted by his company. On the right is R. D. Kelm, also of New York, who accompanied Mr. Palmer here and addressed the conference.

A plan under which more than 20,000 retail druggists throughout the United States will be eligible to share in the profits of E. R. Squibb & Sons, internationally known manufacturing chemists, has been developed and will be announced by Carlton H. Palmer, president of the company, at a conference today at the Biltmore hotel with a group of more than 100 druggists from Atlanta and the surrounding southern territory. The purpose of the plan, according to Mr. Palmer, is to bring about a closer alliance through mutual interest between manufacturer and distributor. The company believes that the trend of modern business is definitely in the direction of mutualization of interest and that the future of the distributor and of the independent manufacturer must lie in this closer affiliation, if both are to profit.

"We believe our plan is unique in one very important respect," Mr. Palmer said in making the announcement. "That is in its provision that the basis of profit-sharing for each individual distributor is determined by his actual purchases of the company's products, rather than by the amount of money he can afford to invest in stock in the plan as developed—thereby assuring that active interest and co-operation between manufacturer and distributor that we believe so vital to continued success in the business world."

Big Profit Shown. Stock ownership in the Squibb Company, which was founded in 1858, has been confined practically to the officials and members of the organization. In 1920 the company for the first time sold $1,000,000 of participating first preferred stock to its friends in the drug trade. This stock was reclassified in 1928 at a profit to the druggists of more than 100 per cent on their original investment.

For the operation of its plan, the Squibb Company has formed a Delaware subsidiary to be known as The Squibb Plan, Incorporated, having an equal number of manufacturers' and distributors' shares. Druggists holding Squibb franchises will be invited to subscribe to units of 10 distributors' shares for each retail store owned or operated by them.

For each share of distributor's stock issued, E. R. Squibb and Sons agrees to sell to The Squibb Plan one share of its common stock up to 50,000 shares. In addition, the Squibb Company agrees to pay into the treasury of The Squibb Plan, Incorporated, 10 per cent on the actual purchases of all members of The Squibb Plan, and 10 per cent additional on the increase in purchases over the preceding year's purchases. These amounts, together with the income from Squibb Company common stock, are pooled in the treasury of The Squibb Plan, Incorporated.

Before any profits can be distributed, the member druggist must receive 6 per cent as a preferred dividend on his preferred shares. The remainder is then divided into two parts. One part is payable to the manufacturer's shares held by Squibb, and the other part is payable to the druggist members as a participating profit. The druggist share is to be based on the amount of his purchases and not upon the amount of his stock holdings in the plan.

Profits Depend on Business. All distributors' shares are preferred as to dividends and as to assets up to $50 per share and accrued dividends, and are entitled to one-half of all surplus assets in the event of dissolution. Druggists, after receiving their 6 per cent dividend, will participate in the profits in direct proportion to their purchases of merchandise. To insure the closest co-operation between manufacturer and distributor, the Squibb Company proposes to elect four directors from the retail drug trade to the board of the Squibb Plan.

Through the income on the Squibb common stock the druggists will participate in the prosperity and development of the Squibb Company. Through the share holders' contract, druggists will participate in profits in direct proportion to their purchases, the amount to be received by the druggists approximating one-half the average profit obtained by the Squibb Company on its sales during the year 1928.

In commenting on details of the plan, Mr. Palmer said: "The modern trend in business is toward consolidation of business interest. This takes two forms. In one, the individual is merged and swallowed up, absorbed in the whole. This means loss of identity by the individual and lack of independence to every one.

Independence Maintained. "In the other form, the joining of

SURPRISE WITNESS STIRS PANTAGES JURY

Testimony Adds to Evidence Charging Wife of Theater Magnate Was Drunk.

Los Angeles, September 11.—(AP)—A surprise eyewitness, whose identity the state had kept secret in the second degree murder trial of Mrs. Lois Pantages, today added more evidence to support the charges that Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated when she drove her automobile into a collision with that of Juro Rokumoto, who was fatally injured.

The surprise witness, Mrs. Dorothy S. Clarke, testified that on the afternoon of the fatal collision, she "nearly was run down by a large car" which sped toward her "on the wrong side of the street." The witness, who said she was crossing Sunset boulevard, testified that as she reached the curb, she heard the crash and closed her eyes, "afraid to look."

When she opened them, Mrs. Clarke continued, "a large car with a lady in it, was being rolled to the curb, and I went over to the car."

Pointing at Mrs. Pantages, Mrs. Clarke testified: "That is the woman who was in the car."

"Her eyes were half closed," the witness declared; "she appeared utterly indifferent to what had happened."

Old Maids Salt Of Earth, Speaker Tells Reformers

London, September 11.—(AP)—Old maids are the world's most precious possession, in the opinion of R. B. Kerr, of London, who spoke today before the international congress of the World League for Sexual Reform. Mr. Kerr pointed out that the increase in spinsters during the last century had been concurrent with the greatest progress of humanity the world had ever known.

"Spinsters have been the backbone of all movements for international peace, the amelioration of criminal law and general human advance. They devoted to humanitarian projects the energy that otherwise would have been expended on a house and family."

BIG DRAINAGE SUIT AT TAMPA STIRS COURTS

Tampa, Fla., September 11.—(AP)—Jurisdiction in future hearings in a $3,000,000 drainage district suit was somewhat of a question today because defendants and complainants yesterday went to different judges with pleas that each assume control, after two local jurists had disqualified themselves.

Attorneys for the property owners under Pantages, theatrical magnate who is awaiting trial late this month on statutory charges. The state charged she was drunk when the car she was driving hit the Rokumoto automobile.

went to Ocala and asked Judge Bullock, Marion county circuit judge, to take control. He agreed and set September 17 for entertaining application for permanent injunction against bondholders, tax collectors and others. Meanwhile the latter and other defendants appealed to Judge W. T. Harrison, at Bradenton, to assume jurisdiction. He agreed and set a hearing for September 14. Attorneys said that under the law the jurist who first accepted the plea would have control.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO OVERLOOK THIS MARKET?

Telephone subscribers constitute an immensely profitable market in any city. Studies made by a leading magazine show that they actually buy over twice as much as those without telephones.

Merchants and other business men can reach this profitable market—surely and economically—through the pages of the Classified Buyer's Guide, the yellow section of the telephone directory.

And today—as more and more business is transacted by telephone—shopping is done from the home by telephone—the Buyer's Guide has an ever-increasing value as an advertising medium.

Why not investigate the advantages of placing your sales message in the forthcoming book? A telephone call to the Business Office will bring a directory representative to your office. He'll be glad to talk over the matter with you.

NATURAL GAS

constitutes three-fourths of all gas sold in the United States . . . .

An Industry with annual sales totaling $325,000,000

TOTAL GAS SOLD IN UNITED STATES

75% of all gas sold in the United States is natural gas. Sales of the industry in 1928 are estimated at $325,000,000. Few public utilities are growing so rapidly or have attained such a leading position in the past twenty years as the natural gas industry.

4,000,000 Domestic Consumers

Household consumers at the present time use a total of over 296,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas a year. In 1918, 2,509,000 householders paid $83,700,000 for natural gas for cooking, lighting and heating. In 1927, the number of householders had increased to 3,984,400 and the total paid to $180,018,000.

| Year | No. of Consumers |
|------|------------------|
| 1906 | 884,018          |
| 1913 | 1,934,071        |
| 1920 | 2,635,968        |
| 1927 | 3,984,400        |

Allowing for the proportional annual increase, it is estimated that the number of household consumers in 1928 was over 4,000,000.

Wider Uses in Industry

The industry's possibilities for growth are not exceeded by any other major public utility—when the diversified uses to which natural gas is being and can be put in manufacturing and commercial fields are considered. Research has resulted in the discovery of many new uses for this fuel—while its low cost, comparatively high heating value and all-round efficiency give it unusual advantages.

Southern Natural Gas Corporation will serve natural gas through an interstate natural gas transmission system extending from the Monroe and Richland gas fields in Louisiana, through Mississippi and Alabama, to Atlanta, Georgia.

Gross Revenue of this rapidly expanding industry has more than doubled in past ten years

Of the total natural gas consumed in the United States, the proportion for industrial purposes is steadily increasing, as the following table indicates:

|            | 1923  | 1925 | 1927 |
|------------|-------|------|------|
| Domestic   | 27.5% | 23%  | 20%  |
| Industrial | 72.5% | 77%  | 80%  |

Manufacturers are turning to natural gas as a dependable and flexible fuel, obtainable in steady quantities under fixed price schedules.

Gas Reserves Known

Natural gas reserves can be determined accurately. Scientific engineering practice, based upon half a century's knowledge of operating methods, enables the management to measure the life of a field and conserve the supply. As a result, natural gas properties, so managed, possess a proven source of supply.

Stability of Revenue

An outstanding feature of natural gas companies is stability of income. So many uses for this fuel exist and so diversified are the requirements that temporary reductions in one source are offset by increasing demands from others. As the community grows, so the many needs for natural gas increase.

Industry Is Sound Because Essential

The natural gas business rests upon a secure economic basis. It is a fundamental industry, allied with other major industries and the home. For these reasons, securities of the natural gas industry possess to an unusual degree the elements of safety and offer unusual profit opportunities as the industry continues to expand and develop its great potential market.

Another Forward Stride for Greater Atlanta

The Atlanta Gas Light Company brings to industry and household in Atlanta—NATURAL GAS—the fuel that is clean, economical, efficient and dependable—the fuel that lessens manufacturing costs and lightens household burdens.

Today the first visible effect of our determination to bring to you this super fuel will be found in the commencement of actual construction—in Atlanta—that will require the expenditure of more than a million dollars in the city alone, and the continuous effort of hundreds of men for several months. To the four hundred and fifty miles of gas main already in use in Atlanta will be added thirty miles of 20-inch main. Early in 1930 we will commence the distribution of NATURAL GAS, and confidently predict that it will mean the beginning of a new era for industrial and economic Atlanta.

Visualize, if you will, the pipe line, shown in heavy black on the above map. See where it starts, away over in northeastern Louisiana. Follow the engineering problems of putting this pipe under the bed of the great Mississippi. Go on with the engineers through swamp and over hills; through country and city. More than four hundred miles of pipe, perfect in every length and every joint, will enable us to give you perfect service.

Imagine, please, the splendid vision that conceived an uninterrupted supply of the world's finest and best fuel flowing from far-away Louisiana to Atlanta kitchen ranges; to Atlanta furnaces and Atlanta Industrial Plants. Go just a step further and see this great project making the same heat and fuel available wherever there are homes and factories in all of this great "Industrial Southeast." Then, and only then, will you realize the magnificence of our plans and the tremendous obstacles we have overcome. NATURAL GAS will be available in every section of Greater Atlanta.

The advent of NATURAL GAS into Atlanta adds tremendously to its manifold advantages for industrial development, to the cleanliness of the city and its homes, by making possible a smokeless city. It means greater prosperity for the manufacturer, the merchant and the worker.

BIG BETHEL SINGERS TO SHOW PROGRESS OF PAINE COLLEGE

An historical pageant, depicting the sixty years of progress made by the negro race and the part that Paine college has played in that progress, will be offered at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Wesley Memorial church.

The pageant, written by Mrs. M. E. Tilly, of Atlanta, will feature the singing of the famous choir from Big Bethel church. The singers will begin with slave days, depicting how the members of the Methodist church, desiring to aid the negro, founded Paine college fifty years ago, and will continue until the present day.

Rev. A. E. Clements, of Nashville, Tenn., and a number of the general conference members will be present, as will members of the Colored Episcopal Church South.

Radio Concert To Introduce Select Tire Service, Inc

A feature program tonight over radio broadcasting station WSB will be the initial event in an elaborate series of features inaugurating the formal opening, at sunrise Saturday morning, of the new Select Tire Service, Inc., to carry a complete line of Goodrich rubber products in its building at Spring and Simpson streets.

The radio program, which will follow the plan which has been followed by the Goodrich Silvertown Cord orchestra, which has entertained devotees of ethereal entertainment from WEAF, New York, for several years, will begin at 9 o'clock tonight and, for 30 minutes, will present the best of local musical talent in a series of instrumental and vocal numbers.

The thirty-minute program will be featured by three vocal numbers by Clyde Withers, popular Atlanta tenor, who will enact the role made famous by the Goodrich Silver Masked Tenor, known to radio audiences throughout the country. The masked tenor won fame and countless followers while singing with the Silvertown Cord orchestra during the early chain programs.

The instrumental portions of the program will be taken care of by a Goodrich orchestra under the direction of Ed Kneisel.

Opening of the Select Service, Inc., is added indication of the Goodrich Rubber Company's faith in Atlanta and the south as a profitable market for its products. The Goodrich company's big plant, located at Hemphill avenue and Fourteenth street, is expected to be completed shortly after the first of the year, the city construction department having made good progress in providing a sewerage system and doing the grading necessary for the erection of the mammoth plant.

ATLANTA COMPANY IS GIVEN CONTRACT FOR DRY DOCK WORK

Washington, September 11.—(Special.)—The MacDougall Construction Company, of Atlanta, today was awarded the government contract to extend the drydock at the Charleston (S. C.) navy yard so that it will accommodate the new 10,000-ton cruiser.

Bids opened by the navy department earlier in the day revealed that the Atlanta firm offered the lowest bid on the work, $243,000. Congress has appropriated $500,000 for the extension.

The next lowest bidder was the Spencer, White & Prentiss Company, of Washington, whose figure was $254,000. The project is to be completed 18 months after commencement.

Rothemere Urges Britain To Drop Mandates in East

London, September 11.—(AP)—Viscount Rothemere, in a signed article to appear tomorrow in the Daily Mail, of which he is the chief proprietor, says that England should hold back its mandates for Palestine and Iraq to the League of Nations forthwith "or the middle east may be our ruin."

He suggests that the United States is much more attractive to the Jews as a national home than the prospect of "patriarchal poverty in Palestine."

He stated that the Balfour declaration pledging support to the national home in Palestine idea originated as war propaganda "intended to appeal to Zionist Jews who were particularly strong in Germany and Austria. The Balfour declaration, which was never submitted either to the nation or to parliament, is the sole reason for our presence in Palestine."

MRS. VAN VELZER TO BE BURIED TODAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

SYNOPSIS

Douglas Dorling, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the perjured testimony of Cora Sefton, an unscrupulous woman in love with him. In revenge, because he snubbed her advances, she swears she will kill a policeman in a night club raid.

Dorling is a famous aviator, but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her the pain of his imprisonment, he is known to her as a clerk in a small office.

He is rescued from prison in spectacular fashion, right under the eyes of his guard, by means of a parachute. He is dressed in new clothes, and driven to the Gunter hotel, where, to his amazement, he is greeted by Cora. She has registered as his wife.

Cecily Warren, the girl Douglas loves, is also staying at the Gunter. She sees Dorling embraced by Cora, on his arrival and jumps to the conclusion he must be an escaped convict. Disillusioned and heart-broken, she leaves for London.

Douglas meets his father's old friend, Sir Aylmer Granston, in the lobby and accepts his invitation to drive to London. He immediately she wires James Malloran, well-known amateur connoisseur of the arts and a neighbor of the Granstons. As Malloran is decoding the wire Marthe Perralle, Cecily's maid, she is obviously in his employ. He directs her to bring her mistress within a few days to a town called Mortvick, in Scotland.

That night, while Dorling is dining with the Granstons, Malloran calls. Later Cecily comes in, not knowing Douglas is there. She greets him frigidly, and creates a sensation by announcing she has been married.

In answer to a summons, Douglas goes to see Cora. He asks her to explain what is back of all the mystery. She refused, except to say he will meet her "chief" at a town called Mortvick in Scotland, where he is to report in a few days.

Douglas goes to see his mother at Worthing Towers. Cecily's father, Charles Warren, who lives on the fringe of the estate, calls and remarks casually that his daughter has taken a job; she is to furnish a million-pound house in Mortvick, Scotland. Douglas is struck by the coincidence of names—can it, by any chance, be the man who only learn that, in return for his freedom, he is being hired to pilot a mysterious service, as an airplane pilot.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

IN THE CLOUDS.

At the moment when Dorling was thinking of her, Cecily Warren was actually traveling toward him at the rate of over 40 miles an hour. She was sitting next to her host who was driving his own saloon. In the back seat Marthe Perralle—to the outward eye the embodiment of stolid guardianship.

"I've quite lost my sense of direction," Mr. Tredegar said. "We seem to be going in a wide circle."

"The roads are very deceptive," said Tredegar, a good-looking man in early middle age. He had a good voice. He had once been a confidence trickster, and so had played with complete ease the part of a wealthy man wished to furnish an empty house on an elaborate scale. "We are really driving round the south of Mortvick about half an hour."

"I'm beginning to feel horribly nervous," said Cecily.

"You shouldn't have been so absorbed in your work, Miss Warren, as to miss your train," answered her host. "As a matter of fact," he added, "that feeling of embarking on a dangerous adventure completely disappears as the plane rises into the air. It's the sight of the airplane itself that really frightens you—before you've ever been up."

"I know I shall enjoy it—and it's most awfully good of you to do all this for me."

"It was a plain duty after making you miss your train—you can have no idea what it is like to sleep in the inn at Mortvick," the smooth voice answered. "I'm afraid you will not be too comfortable on board. I am not an active director, and I never interfere with the actual carrying. Our planes are adapted for carrying goods. There are seats, of course, but it's rather like traveling in the luggage van of a train."

"That makes it all the more thrilling!"

"It won't be thrilling after the first hour, I'm afraid. My one consolation is that, as you will get to Manchester before dawn, you'll arrive in London about breakfast time."

"Marthe, aren't you beginning to get nervous?" she asked over her shoulder.

"No mademoiselle. I have been in an airplane three times before. I confess I do not like it, but it is better than that inn."

"Good old Marthe!" said Cecily. She was pleasantly excited like a child at the adventure before her. Moreover, she was pleased with Marthe. She had expected the Frenchwoman to object when Mr. Tredegar had offered to take them to Manchester in one of the airplanes owned by the company of which he was a director. If Marthe had refused to come, Cecily would have had to decline.

"Why, here is the sea again!" remarked Cecily, as the car turned and began to run toward the airfield.

"We fly a few miles over the sea before turning inland," explained her host.

It was dusk when the car drew up outside the rambling, stuccoed house. The man who had waited on Dorling at dinner stood in the doorway.

"The captain's in the cockpit with the pilot," he announced and added, as if it were an afterthought, "sir."

"Right! We'll just have our coffee and come."

Cecily followed her host into the dining room. In the center of the table was a tray containing three coffee cups. Tredegar went to the tray, took the first cup, and handed it to Cecily. Then he handed one to Marthe and took one himself.

"I'm afraid it isn't hot," he remarked, "nor good, but it is coffee—and if you really are feeling air-nevy, Miss Warren, that's what you want. Try gulping it."

Cecily drained the cup and made a grimace.

"If you're ready, we'll go right along," said Tredegar. "Pilots are apt to fancy themselves a bit."

They were in a lighted shed now, and before them was an airplane bigger than any Cecily had imagined. A mechanic took her other arm and the two men helped her up the stairway into the saloon.

"I must be an awful funk at heart," Cecily said. "I can scarcely walk," thought Cecily.

She was in the saloon—and it certainly was like a guard's van, she thought. It had been built to carry 40 passengers, but now a sensation had been removed and packing cases were stacked high on both sides of a narrow walk-way.

Tredegar led her to a seat near the front, and himself took one opposite her. As she sank into the heavily upholstered chair she was assailed with drowsiness, so that she could scarcely keep her eyes open. Behind her Marthe Perralle received a nod from Tredegar, then swiftly turned back down the walk-way and 10 seconds later was on the floor of the shed.

In the cockpit Dorling's eye was caught by the figure of a woman. That in itself seemed a strange contradiction in that sinister stronghold with its secret air-drome, its secret machine guns, its vanishing lake. The woman was running. She was flushed. It was as if she were a trespasser. She turned, and a beam of light fell upon her face. A masculine face, he observed. A regular dragon of a woman. A mechanic took her by the arm and led her away. Dorling, "twisted" the incident his eyes found himself remembering the face.

Next to him Beresford had his eye glued to the clock and presently nodded. Acting on previous instructions, Dorling looked to the signal board on his right hand, and as he looked a blue light glowed, went out, then glowed again. The signal was the south. Above it was a yellow light and above that a green one. For a radius of a hundred miles to the south, to the east, to the west, no government plane was in the air. To the north lay the sea—and on the sea he must take his chance.

He signaled to the mechanic. Ahead of him the doors of the shed slid open. Above the dull roar of the engine, as it slowly turned over, he heard the loosening of the cable. A moment later the plane glided forward down the inclined way, then slid gently on to the surface of the water. Dorling let her steady herself, then began to open the throttle. There came a hiss as she taxied over the water. Then with a slight lurch the sight of a giant in slumber, the whole vast structure rose into the air.

She was climbing into the night. To Dorling the rhythmic roar of the engine was sweet music. The craftsman was born in him. He began to love his machine.

An hour later James Malloran, in London, decoded the message he had just received.

"Started to time Pilot Douglas Harris."

"Another of Beresford's 'dozent enough young fellows who might have run straight.'"

From a hidden safe he took a large book, bound in vellum. In it he wrote: "Douglas Harris—alias Douglas Harris—alias 'Douglas' Dorling—tenth Baron Dorling of Dorling."

Officials Will Take Part In Ceremony Marking Laying Of Natural Gas Mains Today

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale
Will "Break Ground" With Golden Spade at Simpson and Sunset.

Laying of the first pipe within the city limits of Atlanta by the Atlanta Gas Light Company in its program to furnish natural gas to users through its mains will be made the occasion of a ceremony at noon today at Simpson and Sunset streets when Mayor I. N. Ragsdale "breaks ground" with a small golden spade.

Participating in today's ceremonies, in addition to Mayor Ragsdale, will be Governor Hardman and other representatives of the city, county and state governments; civic leaders, local bankers and businessmen and representatives from the Atlanta Gas Light Company and the Southern Natural Gas Corporation.

The Gas Light Company will be represented by P. Curzon Hoffman, Jr., vice president in charge of the southeastern properties for the parent concern, who will preside at the ceremonies; H. Carl Wolf, assistant to Mr. Hoffman; M. L. Kane, local manager; Alfred Harburt, consulting engineer, and heads of departments.

Program for Ceremony.
According to the program outlined at offices of the gas light company Wednesday, Mayor Ragsdale will be asked to reply for the city. J. A. Perry, chairman of the public service commission, who has been possibly more instrumental in bringing natural gas to Atlanta than anyone else, will be asked to make a short address on the subject of natural gas and its advantages. Upon completion of these talks the governor will be asked to pull the throttle of the huge trenching machine and the mayor will dig the first spade of earth incident to the beginning of this line. Immediately thereafter all guests will be invited to partake of the barbecue luncheon prepared on the ground.

While luncheon is being served the workmen will be following up the work that has been started in this official way, by laying the first length of pipe in the trench so that it can be viewed by all present.

In an interview given by Mr. Hoffman Wednesday afternoon, he stated that he felt most happy in the completion of many months' work in making arrangements for bringing natural gas into Atlanta, and making it only a comparatively short time before the fuel will be in use.

"I can't refrain from drawing to the public's attention the unflinching belief in this great work and the untiring effort of James A. Perry, chairman of the public service commission; also to the efforts of the officials and engineers of the Southern Natural Gas Corporation and to all of the employees of our own company, all of which made possible this great development. As has been previously stated in articles, there has been a vast amount of money actually spent for the pipe line and it will cost the Atlanta Gas Light Company in the neighborhood of $1,500,000 to tie in its present distribution system with the natural gas transmission mains and make available in every section of 'Greater Atlanta' this most modern fuel. I believe that from the above all citizens can get some idea of the vastness of this undertaking."

"Supplying natural gas to three of the gulf states east of the Mississippi river has passed from the prospective to the constructive stage," according to an official announcement by the Southern Natural Gas Corporation.

"There has been completed 200 miles of the natural gas line from the Monroe and Richmond (La.) gas fields to Birmingham, Atlanta and intermediate points. The total cost of the line, with compressing stations and other equipment, will be approximately $25,000,000, and the final series of contracts for pipe line construction has been awarded, through Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., engineers for Southern Natural Gas Corporation, to Oklahoma Contracting Company, Williams Brothers, Sheehan Pipe Line Construction Company and Hope Engineering Company. It is expected that the line will be in operation prior to December 31, 1929."

Ivey Is Freed On Murder Bill At Waycross

Waycross, Ga., September 11.—(AP) F. W. Ivey, on trial here for the murder of H. W. Herrin, was found not guilty by a jury tonight, a verdict of acquittal having been returned after a deliberation of four hours.

The case was given to the jury late in the day after the afternoon had been consumed with arguments and the judge's charge to the jury.

Both sides had rested their cases at noon.

Herrin was fatally wounded in a pistol duel between the two men which followed the argument over the property. In an unsworn statement at the trial, Ivey said he had been attacked by Herrin's son Louis, and that he struck at him with his pistol, which was accidentally discharged, but that he had no recollection of shooting Herrin.

A civil suit asking $25,000 as damages for the loss of Herrin's life has been brought against Ivey by the former's family, it was announced today.

AVIATION EXPOSITION PLANNED FOR ATLANTA

Candler field will be the scene of the first southeastern aeronautical exposition about the middle of November if plans now under consideration by William B. Hartsfield, former chairman of the aviation committee of city council, meets with local and national interest, Mr. Hartsfield stated Wednesday.

The idea was first presented Monday to the board of governors of the Atlanta chapter, National Aeronautic Association, and met with unanimous approval and offers of support. Huge tents would be erected at Candler field between Virginia avenue and the hangar line, where dozens of aircraft companies would exhibit their newest creations, flying their planes to the municipal airport and eliminating all expense of shipment and tearing down and assembling.

Mr. Hartsfield is taking up the project with airplane manufacturers and said Wednesday that the exposition would be staged here if the manufacturers and the public of Atlanta and vicinity want the show. Dallas is putting on an exposition in October, but no southeastern city has ever had an aviation exposition.

THE New BUICK

New Controlled Servo Enclosed brakes

unrivalled for smooth, sure, silent operation in any weather . . .

To Buick, pioneer of four-wheel brakes, now falls the distinction of another major achievement in this same vital field: the development and introduction of Buick Controlled Servo Enclosed Brakes—the most effective four-wheel braking system ever devised for any automobile!

Buick's new brakes are of the highly efficient internal-expanding type. They are fully enclosed—fully protected against dust, dirt and water—and thus assure maximum braking effectiveness under all weather conditions.

They represent the highest development of the self-energizing principle, which makes the car's own motion provide part of the braking effort. They reveal unmatched responsiveness to the slightest pedal pressure. And they are so perfectly controlled that "grabbing" is entirely unknown! When you apply these brakes, you obtain the most positive, as well as the smoothest and most silent action you have ever experienced in any automobile!

Drive the new Buick! Test not only its matchless new brakes but its brilliant all-round performance, riding comfort and driving ease—all of which combine to establish the new Buick as the greatest value ever offered in the fine car field!

Greatest Southeastern Fair In Its History Is Assured By Reports to Officials

"Governor's Day," "Greater Atlanta Day" and "Farmers' Day" Are Planned at Meeting of Board.

The forthcoming Southeastern fair, opening October 12, and running through October 25, will surpass all previous fairs, both in variety and quality of exhibits and in amusement features and general popular appeal, it was assured by reports made Wednesday to the executive council of the Southeastern Fair Association, which met at the Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting was largely attended and all present were enthusiastic over the progress made in various plans for enlarging the scope of the fair and making it a greater factor than ever before in the development of agriculture and industry throughout the southeast.

Among numerous other important plans developed at the meeting, details to be perfected later, were the following:

1. A Governors' Day on Friday of fair week, October 11, to which will be invited the governors of the states bordering Georgia. That is, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama.

2. A Greater Atlanta Day on Tuesday, October 8, to be featured by a parade celebrating the expansion of Atlanta's area and population by the act of the legislature.

3. A Farmers' Day on Wednesday, October 9, to which farmers from all over Georgia will be specially invited, with reduced railroad fares as a particular inducement.

The suggestion to invite the governors of neighboring states was advanced by Arthur Brooke.

"We call this the 'Southeastern fair,'" said Mr. Brooke. "Let's make it a southeastern fair by inviting official participation of the southeastern states." Governor Hardman, of Georgia, will be asked to extend the invitation officially in the name of the state.

The suggestion to have a Greater Atlanta Day with a big downtown parade was made by Ben S. Barker. After discussion of various details, it was decided to pitch the day on the following basis:

To Invite Boroughs. To invite all boroughs included in Greater Atlanta to participate officially by having their mayors and councilmen bodies in the parade; to ask the merchants and manufacturers of all boroughs to declare a half-holiday; to ask big business concerns to send their executives in the parade in specially banded automobiles; to ask the National Guard regiment of Atlanta and police details of United States army troops from Fort McPherson to give the parade a military aspect; to organize a division of decorated floats, with prizes; to head the procession or bring up the rear with procession of wild west circus performers that will give daily shows at the fair throughout the week.

Troy Chastain reported that the Atlanta Kiwanis Club has taken a large exhibit space and will invite every Kiwanis Club in Georgia, 63 in number, to get up an exhibit of the products of their home town.

Judge John S. Candler, who has charge of the cattle exhibits, reported that there was going to be assembled in the cattle barns the most magnificent array of fine cattle, both dairy and beef, that the south has ever seen.

"The Emmaline Farm, of New York, is going to send a herd of Guernseys worth $100,000," said the judge. "South Carolina will be represented by some very fine dairy cattle. Best of all, and most important of all, to my way of thinking, our own Georgia boys are going to give some of the big exhibitors a run for their money. These 4-H Club boys are taking more and more interest in dairy cattle, and therein lies promise of a tremendous development for our state."

Report on Manufacturers. Walter G. Cooper, who has charge of the industrial exhibits, gave a good report of the interest manufacturers are taking in the fair.

"In years past we have stressed agriculture at Lakewood," said Mr. Cooper. "For the reason that Georgia's agricultural products far out-valued manufacturing products when the fair was started. Now the manufacturing products have gone ahead of agriculture, yet agriculture is not less valuable now than then, but more so. Keeping abreast of progress, the Southeastern fair, beginning this year, is going to put as much emphasis on industry as on agriculture."

Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution; John Paschall, managing editor of The Journal, and James B. Norin, editor of The Georgian, were present by invitation. They expressed their satisfaction over the prospects for the success of the fair and pledged the full co-operation of their respective newspapers.

Those present at the meeting, besides those mentioned above, were W. O. Foote, Robert B. Troutman, L. H. Beall, Horace Russell, F. H. H. Alston, Lee Ashcraft, Ivan E. Allen, Walter T. Candler, Wiley L. Moore, Oscar Williamson, W. E. Saunders, C. A. Kitchens and George West.

ALLEGED SWINDLER GIVEN TWO YEARS ON THREE CHARGES

J. W. Farrell, alias H. J. LeRoy, Wednesday drew sentences aggregating two years when he pleaded guilty before Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court to charges of larceny after trust, forgery and cheating and swindling.

The defendant was charged with larceny after trust of $13,200 from Mrs. Bessie Collins, of 813 1-2 Bankhead avenue, and $5,200 from Mrs. Nettie Murdock, of the same address, on November 30, 1927. He was given 12 months on each of the two indictments.

Farrell was given sentences of 12 months each, to run concurrently with the larceny after trust sentences, on charges of forging the names of three local baking companies to promissory notes to defraud Mrs. Collins, and cheating and swindling Mrs. Collins out of $8,500 by representing that he had an opportunity to buy two carloads of "dust flour" and sell at a profit.

SAUNDERS TO FACE TRIAL ON SEPT. 24 IN SECURITIES CASE

G. M. Saunders, who is charged with violation of the Georgia securities law, will be placed on trial on September 24 before Judge John D. Humphries in Fulton superior court. Saunders is at liberty under $25,000 bond pending the trial.

Georgian Wants To Make Whisky For Uncle Sammy

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
'This is my own, my native land.
I'd like to help it all I can?'"
At least one good Georgian seems to have drawn something akin to an inspiration from this or similar expressions of noble sentiments, judging from a letter received here Wednesday by L. H. Crawford, United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia.

with Uncle Sam with pecuniary gain in view.

Anyway, the letter read as follows: "Dear Sir—I noticed an ad in my county paper where the government was wanting some good whisky made. Could you give me any information about it? If so, please write me. I might be interested in it."

And signed to the letter was the full name and address of the writer. It seems that recent news dispatches had broadcast the information that the government was contemplating letting contracts for the manufacture of some 2,000,000 gallons of medicinal whisky. No other explanation of the missive was forthcoming.

It was suggested that the marshal reply by asking for samples and a price list, together with other information relative to the manufacturing apparatus. The marshal's decision in the matter, however, was to write a letter explaining that he had not been deputized to let contracts for the new supply.

'Hiring' Charges Hurlled at Ohio State Draw Laughs of Officials

BUCKEYE GRADS EMBARRASS BY PLAYER BUYING

Willaman Disavows Desire To Recruit Players Who Won't Be Eligible.

Columbus, Ohio, September 11.—(AP)—Athletic officials at Ohio State university charged with attempting to recruit football players from Heidelberg and John Carroll universities within the past three days, were able tonight to laugh at their accusers in the first instance and to deny emphatically the second.

The officials consider that well-meaning but ill-guided and uninformed alumni caused the university embarrassment by attempting to interview Merle Hutson, Heidelberg's all-Ohio tackle, at Tiffin, last Monday. The officials denied responsibility, however, and pointed out that under rules of the Western conference Hutson never could be eligible to play football for Ohio State.

The other accusation came today from Ralph Vince, coach of the John Carroll team in Cleveland. Vince said that Ted Roosevelt, one of his best tackles, had been approached by Fred Sweetzer, former Buckeye halfback and now president of the Cleveland (Ohio) State Alumni Association, and by Hal Ellis, of Toledo, an Ohio State alumnus.

Vince charges that Sweetzer and Ellis offered Roosevelt tuition, board and a job if he would come to Ohio State. Roosevelt said he had been told that Sam Willaman, the Buckeye's new coach, had a list of players on other Ohio teams that Willaman wanted on the Ohio State squad and that he was one of them. Roosevelt declined to comment on Vince's charges and said he would remain with John Carroll.

Coach Willaman said he had never heard of Roosevelt and that he did not want players recruited from other institutions.

Professor Thomas E. French, chairman of the athletic board, said that "as far as the university and the athletic board are concerned, no offers have been made to any athletes to come to the university."

Trigo Captures St. Leger Stakes

Doncaster, Eng., September 11.—(United News).—Trigo, an Irish-bred horse with a Spanish name, was today in the famous St. Leger stakes, one of the oldest classic horse races in England and next in importance to the Derby.

Conquering a strong field of 12 colts and one filly, William B. Bennett's entry beat Lord Alston's Rosemary by a scant head in a thrilling finish after a grueling race over the mile, six furlongs and 132 yards course. Michael Beary rode the winner.

Sir Laurence Phillipps, Horus was third and C. W. Gordon's Hasteaway fourth. Trigo was 5 to 1 in the betting. Bosworth 9 to 1. Horus 25 to 1. The purse had a total value of about $85,000, of which about $55,000 went to Trigo's owner, a Belfast grain merchant, who refused $100,000 for the colt last year before the Derby.

Trigo, a 33-to-1 shot in the Derby, won the famous English classic and with today's victory was established as the greatest money winner of any horse in the country. Trigo has won three races this year and amassed approximately $120,000 in purses.

Trigo's victory completed a sweep for Irish horses in the English classic fixtures this season, today's race being the last classic of the season. The only American entry, Postivity, owned by Mrs. Charles Glendon, the former Helen Huntington, proved a disappointment, as did the highly-favored filly, Lord Alston's Penny-comequick, winner of the Epsom Oaks.

The St. Leger stakes have been run four years before the Derby was instituted. In olden times Doncaster had a reputation for being the biggest eating and drinking town in England. An immense crowd, composed mostly of Yorkshire people, witnessed the renewal.

New Heavy Flash To Fight in Chi

Chicago, September 11.—(AP)—Al Fay, Jack Kearn's current heavy-weight protegee, will clash with Al Friedman, of Boston, in a 10-round main bout at Chicago stadium September 20. Three other 10-rounders, featuring heavyweights, one of which will be a rematch between Ruggiero, giant Italian, and Pete Westorin, Chicago, will complete the card.

Spiller Closes Dumovich Deal

Nick Dumovich, the lanky south-paw recently secured by the Crakers from Waco, in the Texas league, on option, was purchased Wednesday by R. J. Spiller.

Dumovich has won four games for the Crakers and has been defeated only once. He looked particularly good in each of his victories and won the only game for the Crakers in the Birmingham series.

University of Kentucky officials are planning to be spectators at Georgia Tech's experimental twilight football game, if it is held September 21, according to word received here.

Kentucky has two games scheduled to be played after supper, but the Tech plan, starting late in the afternoon and turning the lights on gradually as dusk falls, has excited the interest of S. A. Boles, athletic director.

Theoretically at least the Tech scheme merits serious consideration as a substitute for night football. None of the traditional glamor of the game and the ceremonies between halves is distorted by starting late in the afternoon and the heat of early October is dodged without interfering with normal social activities after dinner.

It goes without saying that illuminating engineers have solved the problem of lighting a field satisfactorily. It merely remains to educate coaches, players and the public to its efficiency.

VALUE OF RESERVES.

In wondering what the old school will do this season in football, the value of the substitutes must not be overlooked. No matter how good the first eleven men may be, unless there is a capable man on the bench ready to step in when the regular tires or is injured, the football fortunes of that team are bound to fade in a long campaign.

The old-fashioned 60-minute man has just about disappeared. Some football coaches try to develop a second team as a unit to use as shock troops for a few minutes.

The others struggle to have a substitute of first call ready for every man on the varsity.

Coach Alexander at Tech always tries to have a substitute center, and substitute quarterback on the bench who never get into the game except as the very last resort. Players at those two positions are highly specialized in their training. A tackle might substitute for an end or a halfback might play fullback in a pinch, but the center and the quarterback in the Tech system must have had endless practice at their positions to be of any use.

So unless the character of the reserve strength is figured, many fond alumni will be disappointed at the performance of their splendid looking first eleven.

RECENT EXAMPLES PROVE IT.

Much of the success of that great Georgia team of 1927 was due to the two fine sets of backs available. And if there had been about four more linemen of first string caliber on Sanford Field, nothing could have kept the Bulldogs out of a national championship.

Wallace Wade, of Alabama, was outspoken in his admiration of the 1928 Tech team and he summed up the Tech situation something like this to Dan McGugin just before Vanderbilt came down:

"Coach, when you go down to Atlanta to play Tech you'll just have to play two Tech teams. They have two extra tackles and two extra guards and a substitute end and another halfback and a spare fullback that are just as good as the first stringers. If you have one good man in your backfield you'd better leave him on the bench. He is sure to get worn out charging into those fresh men all afternoon."

Mind you, it is not necessary to have twenty-two men of equal ability to win championships these days. They simply do not come to any one campus in lots of 22. Sixteen or seventeen men of varsity caliber is just about enough ammunition to whip the world. And very, very few coaches can count that many in any year.

TIME TO LAUGH.

When you hear that So and So has three full teams, each eleven as good as the other, or that Whooziz has a second team that can beat the varsity right along, don't believe a word of it.

They tell one on Wild Bill Juneau when he was coaching at Texas that illustrates what is meant. Wild Bill had a big squad one year and confided to the newspapers that he had 33 men and just did not know which eleven to use. That was the week before the annual game with Vanderbilt.

Well, Vandy came out and ran up three or four touchdowns on Juneau's Texans in no time. After the game, a newspaper man mentioned the 33-man story to Juneau. "I was telling the truth last week when I said I had 33 men and did not know which 11 to play," Juneau told the reporter. "But, by George, I now know which ones not to use."

Scrimmage Set Rochester Wins For V.M.I. Team Second Pennant

Durham, N. C., September 11.—Picking a varsity backfield combination would be as easy as pie for Duke University coaches right now but for one thing—the best offensive backfield does not happen to be perfectly satisfactory on defense.

There are plenty of backs on hand, the best squad of backfield men Duke ever had at the start of a season.

Two men who will be in the fray when a passing attack is the thing will be Sam Buie and Glenn Robeson—Sam to throw them and Glenn to catch them, and run.

These two men are the best in their departments.

Kid Brewer will be quarterback. If he has any particular weakness the coaches haven't yet discovered it. He is cool under fire and handles the varsity like an old campaigner. And he has played only prep school and freshman football to date.

Godfrey, Jankowski, Rokey, Beaver, Coleman and Roebuck are fullbacks. Six good men and all of them won't be held for the position where only one man can play.

TENNIS GHOST STALKS COURTS

Norris Williams Grabs Day's Honors at Forest Hills Meet.

By George Kirksey.

Forest Hills, N. Y., September 11.—(United News).—A tennis ghost of 13 years ago stalked across the courts in the fourth round of the men's national singles championships today as two former champions, four youngsters, one veteran and one English star advanced to the quarter final.

R. Norris Williams, of Philadelphia, national champion in 1914 and 1916, carried off the major laurels for the day by a stunning five-set victory over Arnold Jones, Providence, R. I., who eliminated Gregory Mangan in the first round.

Outclassed in the first two sets, Williams fought from the rear to triumph in five sets, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. Williams unleashed a whirlwind attack in the final set when he won half of the eight games at love and allowed Jones but 12 points in the entire set.

The other players to reach the quarter-final round were William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, six times champion; Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, N. Y., last year's finalist with Henry Cochet; John Van Ryn, of South Orange, N. J.; Johnny Doege, of Santa Monica, Cal.; Wilmer Allison, of Fort Worth, Texas; Fritz Mercer, of Bethlehem, Pa.; and Henry W. (Bunny) Austin, of England.

Tilden had an easy time winning from Henry M. Culley, of Boston, on an outside court, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. Big Bill never doffed his sweater and conserved all his strength for his crucial match with John Van Ryn, Davis Cup doubles star, whom he meets tomorrow.

Van Ryn disposed of Tammie Abe, the Japanese Davis Cup player, today, 6-3, 8-6, 5-7, 6-4.

Edward Feibleman, rangy New York conqueror of Dr. George King and Berkeley Bell in two upsets, tasted defeat today at the hands of little Bunny Austin, of England, 2-6, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

In defeat as in victory, Feibleman gave a good account of himself and had the curly-haired British boy backed with the wall a greater portion of the match.

Two Great Tackles Make Jackets' Line

Mehre, Georgia Coach, Says Tech Forward Will Be Determining Factor of Tornado.

By Ralph McGill.

Georgia Tech always thinks in terms of Georgia and at Athens they think in terms of Tech.

And so Tuesday afternoon at an office in the main building, Harry Mehre, Georgia's head coach, was talking about Tech. There are seven tough football games on his schedule before he reaches his chance at the Jackets. But the conversation was about Tech.

The Georgia coach thinks Tech's line will be the determining factor in the campaign this fall. He also thinks that Alabama and Tech are the two stand-out teams at this period of the season and that the odds favor one of them winning the southern conference championship.

GREAT LINE.

"I think Tech has a great asset in its line," he said. "No team in the south has the material that Alabama has. But I believe that if Tech can score one touchdown before any of its opponents score it can beat any team it plays, unless it is Notre Dame. I believe Tech will have to score more than one to beat the Irish."

Tech's line, with Coot Watkins at one tackle and Vance Marree at the other, is something the others haven't got. It isn't often that a team has two great tackles like that. And I understand there are some good reserves for each position. That line, together with the good defensive backs, should be able to prevent a touchdown. If Tech gets that jump in the scoring it should be able to hold it."

Mehre thinks that Alabama looks even better than Tech, so far as material is concerned. "They had no losses to speak of and they had a great freshman team last fall. Alabama looks better than any of us right now."

Athens Awaits Yale-Georgia Game.

As the train pulled into Athens yesterday afternoon two young things in the Pullman car shrieked, "Oh, this is where Yale is going to play."

As this reporter descended the steps the porter asked, "Is dis de place where Yale gentlemen gonna play?"

A taxi driver said that the fare was 50 cents to the stadium where the Yale-Georgia game was to be played, but the stadium was new and well worth going to see.

The boys shining shoes were arguing about what the heat would do to Yale.

ATHENS TO DECORATE.

The hotel clerk said that Athens was preparing to decorate the town in gaudy fashion for the Yale game. A reporter said that the graduate manager from Yale had said that the Georgia stadium was the prettiest one he had ever seen, prettier even than the Yale Bowl.

CUBS RESTRICT SERIES TICKETS

Fans Must 'Walk Chalk Line' To Purchase Pasteboards.

Chicago, September 11.—(AP)—Reserved seat tickets for 1929 world series games in Chicago will be limited to two to each applicant and the sale will be conducted entirely by mail, President William L. Veeck, of the Cubs, announced tonight.

These regulations apply only to reserved seats—boxes and grandstands—the former to sell at $60.00 each and the latter at $5.50. All applications requesting more than two tickets would be rejected and the money returned to the applicant.

TO GET AVERAGE.

It is Veeck's idea that the average lineemen charges with something like 250 pounds of force. This machine, if it works, and there seems to be no reason why it should not, will demonstrate, for the first time, just what average force seven men exert when charging forward in a football game.

I suppose a lot of people have wondered about that," said Fincher. "I know I have and that's why I am anxious to give the machine a test. The machine will show that a lineman exerts 300 pounds of force. I think you will know what Tech's line does and if they are outcharged it will mean that the other teams have more power. This machine will show conclusively what they are doing. It will also enable us to test the individual's charging force."

Bob Parham To Aid Furman.

Bob Parham, Atlanta baseball player and last year with the Tech football team, which won the national championship, will assist Dad Amis with the Furman coaching job. He will report next Monday when the Southern league season is completed. He will fill in on the staff until Bob Randolph, also of last year's Tech squad, is able to return. Randolph was injured in an automobile wreck Saturday night.

Griffiths Meets Haymann Tonight

New York, September 11.—(United News).—An all-heavyweight program features the opening of the indoor boxing season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, with Tuffy Griffiths, young Sioux City (Iowa) boy, and Dr. Ludwig Haymann, heavyweight champion of Germany, meeting in the 16-round main bout.

Picked by Jack Sharkey as one of the foremost contenders of the younger crop of heavyweights, Griffiths is a 2-to-1 favorite.

It was not so long ago that Griffiths, then a light-heavyweight, came to New York heralded as another Dempsey and was knocked out in the second round by James J. Braddock. It is the only defeat on Griffiths' record.

Griffiths completed his training today at Orangeburg, N. Y., with a six-round workout. He scaled 185 before the workout.

Miss Hicks Leads By Wide Margin

Chicago, September 11.—(United News).—Helen Hicks, Long Island girl, continued to hold a ten-stroke lead as the third 18-hole round of the women's western 72-hole golf tournament ended today.

BUCKING SLED WILL REGISTER FORCE APPLIED

Scales To Show Just How Hard Football Line Charges.

By Ralph McGill.

A bucking sled that will measure the force of the charging lineman has been devised by Bill Fincher, coach of the Georgia Tech line, and an order placed for the machine to be constructed.

Fincher and the representative of a scales company spent a half hour Wednesday afternoon planning the machine. The scales company will build it and deliver it to the Rose Bowl practice field within the next few days.

If the sled proves practical it will be of invaluable assistance to line coaches. Fincher plans to patent his idea and market it through one of the large sporting goods companies if the demonstration proves a success.

It will be invaluable in developing a line," said Fincher. "A coach never knows with what power his men are charging in practice. He is never sure which man exerts the most force."

HOW IT WORKS.

"The bucking sled will be arranged so that the scale will register the number of pounds with which the charging linemen strike it. This will enable the line coach to sit on the sled and see that there is a consistent effort on the part of the line. If a line charges consistently and powerfully in practice it will do the same thing in a game," said the Tech line coach.

The representative of the scales company said that by a system of pulley and springs the scales could be arranged so as to register the approximate force. "There will be some lost motion in the pulleys but the coach will know pretty well what his men are doing. I think the idea is a fine one. We can back-weight the scales so that they will be able to register the force of the first time, too large to fit the sled. Scales are often used for similar purposes. Automobile companies use them to test the breaking point of their springs."

Randolph's father was a visitor at the Tech practice yesterday afternoon. He reported that his son was doing well in spite of a fractured leg and other injuries. It will be about three or four weeks before he is able to resume his coaching duties.

Oakmont Golfer Leads Senior Meet

Rye, N. Y., September 11.—(AP) Dr. George T. Gregg, of the Oakmont Country Club, Oakmont, Pa., took the lead today in the twenty-fifth annual national senior golf championship, shooting a brilliant 75 over the Apawamis Club course. The score with an 18-hole playoff gave him a total of 156 and a four-stroke lead over the second-place score of John D. Charman, of Greenwich, Conn.

Goodman's Friends Seek Whereabouts

Omaha, Neb., September 11.—(AP)—What has become of Johnny Goodman, the 20-year-old Omaha golfer who dethroned Bobby Jones?

Members of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and Lakewood Country Club, of which Johnny is a member, planned a huge "blow-out" for him.

Telegrams have been sent to him in California but no answers have been received. The last messages were undelivered.

Johnny apparently has different ideas about his return. His friends believe he would return annually.

Barons Beat Crackers in Final, 3-1; Need 2 Games for Flag

RAY CALDWELL HOLDS ATLANTA TO SIX BLOWS

Climax Blethen Loses 11th Game of Season. Barons at Nooga.

Birmingham closed its 1929 schedule with Atlanta on Spiller field Wednesday afternoon with a well-earned and well-played 3-to-1 victory over Atlanta. The Barons move to Chattanooga today for a four-game series, and two more victories will cinch the pennant for the Barons.

Climax Blethen, the Crackers' best hurler, was the victim of Birmingham last game here and although he pitched a creditable game except in the seventh inning, he lost. It was his eleventh defeat of the season against 22 victories and Atlanta fans were pulling hard Wednesday for him to make it his twenty-third victory.

Ray Caldwell was on the mound for the visitors and kept the six Cracker hits well scattered except in the sixth inning when two safeties were recorded. Those two hits accounted for the Crackers' only run of the game.

It was not Atlanta's inability to hit in the pinches for there was little chance for Cracker batters to shove a run across the plate, so good was Caldwell's pitching. Even though Ray was hot in the collar all afternoon and exceedingly stingy with Cracker baselines, Manager Johnny Dobbs had a hunch that Caldwell would be the field side line throughout the latter part of the game.

The thoughts of a relief hurler taking his place may or may not have had its effect on Caldwell, but he certainly threw that baseball Wednesday afternoon. Manager Dobbs rushed Ludolph into the game in the fifth inning Tuesday after the Crackers secured five hits, but it proved to be a wise move on his part.

Pickering, Smith and Caldwell were Birmingham's outstanding players Wednesday. Caldwell's feat has been elaborated on. Pickering secured a single and double, the two-base swat scoring two players in the seventh inning. Smith secured two doubles and a single and played a neat game at shortstop. His double in the seventh started Birmingham's scoring.

HIGHLIGHTS.

Lee and Battle were the highlights in Atlanta hitting while Jones played good baseball at short. Battle's two hits came when the bases were empty but Lee's second hit, a single in the bottom of the fourth, was the only one to count.

SMOKIES ROUT TOURISTS, 10-2, TO TAKE LEAD

Three Pitchers Shelled as Knoxville Wins; Waddey Hits Well.

Knoxville, Tenn., September 11.—(AP)—Landing on three Asheville pitchers for 14 hits and 10 runs, Knoxville Smokies nosed out the Tourists 10-2 for the lead in the Sally league play-off here today. Johnny Walker held Asheville to three hits and two runs, pitching a perfect game after the first inning and giving Knoxville a 2 to 1 lead in the series.

Both teams gave their big shows in the first inning, when Asheville did all its scoring and Knoxville sent seven men across.

A crowd of some 3,000 saw Walker falter in the opener after Smut Smith went out at first. Spillers walked and went to third on a single by A. Greene. Outen singled, scoring Spillers, and followed to the plate on Nash's slow grounder, which was fumbled by Walker and Schepner. That ended Asheville's scoring, Kennedy and Hips flying out.

Then Knoxville went to bat. John Allen, pitcher sold recently to the New York Yankees, was wild and left the box after two men had scored. McCrone walked and made third on Osborne's single. Osborne stole second and Smith singled, scoring McCrone and Osborne. Smith went to second on Outen's wild pitch through the infield and scored on a single by McNair. Manager Kennedy promptly called Allen from the mound and sent in June Greene, who lasted through Knoxville's three-run spree in the sixth, but gave up the box in the eighth to W. Greene.

That long first inning went on with June Greene doing his best. Five runs were scored for Knoxville by Smith, McNair, Waddey, Hamilton, and Walker on a succession of hits, a fumble and a bad throw to the home plate, which brought McNair in by inches.

For five innings both teams did some fast playing. Walker and the Smokies downing every Tourist either at bat or on the way to first. Knoxville repeated in the sixth, though, starting with Osborne's double. Smith bunted and June Greene threw into the crowd in deep left, allowing Osborne and Smith to score. Asheville protested that Osborne should have been stopped at third but Umpire Osborne approved the run. McNair flew out, Waddey walked and was thrown out at second. Hamilton singled and scored on a hit and run by Schepner and McCrone's single. Waddey retired the side with an out at first.

W. Greene went in when Knoxville threatened again in the eighth, and finished the game with only two hits against him.

Two more games are to be played here tomorrow and Friday. If they do not settle the series, the teams return to Asheville, where each got a win in the opening pair.

Joe Heving Sold To Giant Club

Memphis, Tenn., September 11.—(AP)—Joe Heving, pitcher, was sold today by the Memphis Southern association club to the New York Giants. Thomas R. Watkins, president of the Memphis club, announced the sale. He will report to the Giants next spring. Heving came to the Chicks from Asheville, of the South Atlantic association. He has won 13 and lost 10 games this season.

C. H. S. DECIDES TO HAVE TEAM

Grid Candidates Already Practicing for Coming Prep Season.

Commercial High school has definitely decided to have a football team this fall and the first practice was held Wednesday afternoon at Grant park. When the roll was called only three veterans from the 1928 team were missing.

Coach Godwin had plenty of material to work with for the three openings in the line and the two in the backfield and will have some strong reserves this year.

Only three men were lost: Atkinson, Seitz and Dennis. Last year's regulars who returned are: Arnold, end; Thomas and Davis, tackles; Sandford, guard; Neal, center; Riley, quarter; Carrington and Laird, halfbacks; and Eckard, fullback.

These fellows will have to fight to hold their places and Commercial is looking forward to a big year opening the season with Rome on September 27.

The schedule:

September 27—Rome at Rome.

October 4—Robert E. Lee at Thomas.

October 10—Marist at Spiller's.

October 18—East Point at Grant park.

October 25—Open.

November 1—Winder at Winder.

November 8—Cartersville (pending).

November 15—Griffin at Griffin.

Thanksgiving—East Point at East Point.

JUMPER GEORGIA
CORN CROP SEEN

Marked increases in Georgia's leading crops are forecast in the United States department of agriculture report for September, issued yesterday. Indicated production of corn sets the 1929 crop at 49,904,000 bushels, an increase of approximately 30 per cent over the 1928 crop, which was under the average. The crop this year is slightly over the five-year average, though around 8 per cent under the 1927 crop.

The largest crop of tobacco on record has been marketed in Georgia, the report declares, setting production at the state at 89,806,000 pounds this year compared with 84,387,000 pounds in 1928. The quality of the crop was good this year, and brought growers a price of $16,200,000, the report indicates.

BONNER STEEL
INTEREST SOLD
TO CAPITALIST

Buffalo, N. Y., September 11.—(P) Robert Bonner, of the Bonner Steel Corporation here, today confirmed the report that his father's controlling interest in the concern's Buffalo plant had been sold to Cyrus L. Eaton, Cleveland capitalist.

Mr. Bonner said the published story of a reported merger of independent steel companies planned by Mr. Eaton was "substantially correct," but that any further details would have to come from Mr. Eaton himself.

The proposed company would be second in size to the United States Steel Corporation, it was reported.

Mr. Bonner did not reveal the price paid by Mr. Eaton, but it was estimated to be close to $10,000,000.

Chicago, September 11.—(P)—

Argentina, together with confirmation of unparalleled North American grain shortage, gave all cereal prices a decided upturn. Wheat traders focused attention on the market, especially on 30c

buena Aires, usually the market for Argentine wheat. The gentle decline in the wheat

market was not with the

as showing 1,251,850,000 bushels

of grain in the United States and Canada, with the low last year.

Closing quotations on wheat

were 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 bushels

higher than yesterday's. Corn closed

2 1/2 to 2 3/4 bushels higher than yesterday's. Provisions unchanged

at a net loss of 10c.

Latest advices at hand today said

prolonged absence of rain were needed in Argentina, and seriously

impeding the Argentine wheat crop,

and that in Santa Fe province alone

the damage amounted to all the way from 30 to 50 per cent.

Wheat toward the last today

was a leader of the general price

advance, as the first list of grains,

the quickest to show an upward trend. The United States government

estimate of current yield this season

indicated much more than the average of the last month, and traders had looked for, when the majority of the wheat crop was done, and that in Santa Fe province

alone the damage amounted to all the way from 30 to 50 per cent.

Corn, on the other hand, primary

domestic receipts of wheat today

were the case last year.

Ex-Wife Asserts She Was Divorced Against Her Will

Springfield, Ill., September 11.—(AP) Asserting that she had been given a divorce against her will and over her objection, Carol Frink, motion picture actress, today started a legal action which if successful would annul the marriage of her former husband, Charles McArthur, playwright, and Helen Hayes, actress.

Miss Frink filed for a writ of certiorari in the state supreme court asking a review of an appellate court degree. She filed the original bill charging extreme and repeated cruelty, but petition states, but by the time the case got to the appellate court she had decided not to get a divorce. She moved for dismissal of the case, she alleged, but the court granted the decree anyway.

McArthur and his first wife were divorced several years ago. Since then he was married to Helen Hayes, star of "Coquette" and other plays. If the divorce were set aside, as Miss Frink requests, the second marriage would be annulled.

McArthur wrote the play "Lulu Belle" and collaborated with Ben Hecht in writing "The Front Page." He is also the author of several war stories, including the novel, "War Bugs."

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 22

After Tarzan and Sheeta had feasted to their hearts' content on the fresh buffalo meat, the two curled up together in a thicket, the man's curly head pillowed upon the tawny hide of the panther, and thus they slept until dawn. Upon returning to the apes' camp, Tarzan found that four of the beasts—those who had suffered most from fright during the voyage to the mainland—had deserted.

With Mugambi's help, Tarzan righted and launched the overturned dugout, and after an hour's search for the missing ape the boat put off without them. They paddled up the coast until they came to the mouth of a great river. Shortly after noon the party put in for shore to search for food. Then they continued on up the river, thus far without seeing either man or beast.

But from the dense screen of verdure lining the river's bank, a slender naked savage watched them for a moment. Then he melted away up-stream before any of those in the canoe discovered him. Like a deer he bounded along the trail, until, filled with the excitement of his news, he burst into a native village several miles above the point at which Tarzan and his pack had stopped to hunt.

"Another white man is coming," he cried to his chief, "in a great canoe with many warriors." In a moment the rumble of the war-drums rose, calling in the hunters from the forest and the tillers from the fields. Seven war-canoes were launched and manned by paint-daubed, befeathered warriors. Noiselessly they glided down the river to overwhelm this white savage by sheer force of numbers.

Morrow and Simpson Pay Death Penalty in Chair For Slaying of Cashier

Two Men Are Executed at Prison Without Knowing Refusal of Final Clemency Plea.

Milledgeville, Ga., September 11.—(AP)—Without knowing their final plea for clemency had been denied ten minutes before preparations for their execution started, Malcolm Morrow and Homer Simpson died in the electric chair at the state prison here shortly after noon today for the murder of C. A. Perry, Kingsland (Ga.) bank cashier, in February last year.

The petition was presented this morning to Judge J. B. Park, of the penitentiary court at Milledgeville, by attorneys for the condemned men, and was the last effort of a lengthy fight to save their lives. Rejection of the petition was not disclosed until several hours after the execution.

Morrow, whose home was in Jacksonville, Fla., was the first to be executed. He took his seat in the chair at 12:15 o'clock, but a slight delay was occasioned after the straps had been adjusted by failure to connect one of the wires leading to the headpiece. As a result the circuit remained open when the switch was thrown. The wire was hastily connected and the switch thrown again at 12:20. Examination after the first shock by prison physicians revealed Morrow's heart was still beating strongly and he was given a second shock at 12:26. He was pronounced dead at 12:30.

Simpson, former Cleveland (Tenn.) police chief, entered the chair at 12:35 and was given two shocks, at 12:39 and 12:41. With no examination between shocks he was removed from the chair at 12:44. Simpson, who was 6 feet tall and weighed more than 200 pounds, was said by prison officials to be the largest man ever executed here. He was the forty-seventh to die in the electric chair in Georgia.

Both Calm. Both men went to their death with the calmness that has characterized their every action since they were transferred from the Fulton county jail in Macon to the death cells here. After eating a hearty breakfast today they spent the morning talking with the prison chaplain, Dr. E. C. Atkins, who pronounced the final benediction, and in bidding farewell to friends and relatives.

Simpson showed his only sign of weakening when he was visited by his mother and several sisters and brothers. He regained his composure, however, and dressed calmly after being shaved by the prison barber. As he entered the chair he shook hands with the chaplain and several officials, and said quietly: "Thank you for your kindness. This is only a brief parting before we meet again. I have made no ill feelings toward anyone, and pray that God will get glory out of this."

Morrow's coolness was even more marked than was Simpson's. Following a long talk with his mother he walked steadily the seven paces from his cell to the death chamber, and took his seat in the chair with a faint smile. He was chewing a match and continued to roll it in his mouth as the straps were adjusted.

Not Bitter. "So long boys, see you all again some day," were his last words. A few moments earlier he had said: "I didn't expect to come here today without bitterness, but now I haven't a trace of bitterness. I am glad to give all credit for that to Dr. Atkins. The prison chaplain spent considerable time with the two men in the past three days, and both were said to have embraced the Christian faith before death."

The execution was in charge of Captain J. M. Burke, warden of the men's camp, and was witnessed by 26 persons, including prison officials and newspapermen. One of those present was W. S. Perry, brother of the man for whose murder Morrow and Simpson were executed.

Simpson's body was removed immediately to Cleveland, Tenn., his former home, while Morrow's will be taken to Jacksonville.

The death of the two men marked the end of an 18-month legal battle following the arrest of Simpson and Morrow in Lakeland, Fla., for the killing of Perry on February 23, 1922. Perry, who was wounded near Kingsland, Ga., during an attempt by Simpson, Morrow and a third man, O. G. Walker, to force the cashier to open the vault of the Kingsland bank.

Perry died in Florida after an automobile wreck as the three men were taking him to a Jacksonville hospital. Walker, arrested in Baltimore, was subsequently given a life sentence, while the case of Simpson and Morrow was carried finally to the Georgia supreme court where a rehearing was denied.

Governor Hardman also denied the men clemency in accordance with a recommendation of the state prison commission, which yesterday declined to grant a reprieve sought on the grounds that the state of Georgia had no jurisdiction in the case because Perry had died in Florida.

Sentence was passed on the men three times before the final execution date was set.

At the ferry, Peck found he had forgotten his bags, and consequently the party made a hasty dash back to Peck's home. They arrived in San Francisco just in time to embark on the steamship Maui for Honolulu, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and after a wedding breakfast, attended by only close relatives and friends of the bride and groom, the couple went to San Francisco.

W. & A. Commission Holds First Meeting

Photo by George Cornett, staff photographer. Members of the Western and Atlantic commission met for the first time Wednesday with officials of the United States Cold Storage Co., Chicago, and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad to discuss the proposed erection of a 17-story office building and storage plant on the Union station site. In the picture, left to right, are shown: W. D. Anderson, Macon; W. D. Thomson, Atlanta; C. K. C. Ausley, Thomasville; Henry T. McIntosh, Albany; C. M. Candler, chairman, Atlanta; Fitzgibbon Hall, Nashville, Tenn.; Judge W. F. Jenkins, court of appeals; E. M. Dadds, vice president and general manager United States Cold Storage Company; James Guy Robertson, of the storage company; Governor L. G. Hardman, President J. B. Hill of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, and M. W. Borders, general counsel of the storage company. Mrs. Mattie Carrington, secretary of the commission, is seated.

Substantial and satisfactory progress was made by the Western & Atlantic lease commission Wednesday in its consideration of a proposal made by the United States Cold Storage Company, of Chicago, to erect a 17-story office building and storage plant on the site of the present Union station in Atlanta, it was announced at the conclusion of the session by Henry T. McIntosh, of Albany, designated spokesman of the commission.

"We conferred with officials of the storage company and with President J. B. Hill of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, asked them many questions about the proposed improvement and received much information we need to use in reaching a decision in the matter," Mr. McIntosh said. "We expect a definite proposal from the storage company which will be submitted soon and another meeting of the commission will be held at the call of Chairman C. M. Candler."

After the meeting E. M. Dadds, of Kansas City, vice president and general manager of the storage company, said his company would be ready to submit a definite proposal to the commission within 10 days.

Mr. McIntosh said the commission is not ready to announce its action in selecting a successor to Judge H. Warner Hill, who was named in the bill passed by the legislature as a member of the commission but who found later he could not serve.

Railroad officials, representatives of the storage company and members of the commission discussed the entire situation frankly and openly, according to Mr. McIntosh.

"We had our first contact with these officials and I can state that we made good progress in the matter," he said. "Because of the magnitude of the proposal, it naturally will require some time for us to give it full consideration, but we expect to dispose of the matter as quickly as possible."

President Hill submitted to the commission a copy of the contract which his road and the storage company have agreed to sign, providing the commission extends the present lease of the railroad on the Western & Atlantic property from 40 to 70 years as far as the Union station site is concerned. There is no effort to obtain an extension on any of the railroad property save the one site which is to be used for the office building and warehouse.

Mr. Dadds was accompanied by Governor L. G. Hardman, C. M. Candler, chairman of the bureau of market extension of the company, and M. W. Borders, of Kansas City, general counsel for the company.

Members of the commission present Wednesday at the meeting held in the office of the governor were Governor L. G. Hardman, C. M. Candler, chairman; Judge W. F. Jenkins, of the court of appeals; W. C. Marshall, of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad; and W. D. Thomson, of the United States Cold Storage Company. Mrs. Mattie Carrington served as secretary.
